

SUED
TUESDAY
THURSDAY
SATURDAY

THE COURIER-GAZETTE

TUESDAY
ISSUE

Established January, 1846. By Rockland Publishing Co., 465 Main St., Entered as Second Class Mail Matter. Rockland, Maine, Tuesday, August 12, 1924. THREE CENTS A COPY Volume 79.....Number 97.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK
ALL THE HOME NEWS
Subscription $3.00 per year payable in advance; single copies three cents.
Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

The sovereign precept is to conform to nature—Montaigne.

For President
CALVIN COOLIDGE of Massachusetts

For Vice President
CHARLES G. DAWES of Illinois

For United States Senator
BERT M. FERNALD of Poland

For Representative to Congress
WALLACE H. WHITE, JR. of Lewiston

For Governor
RALPH O. BREWSTER of Portland

For State Auditor
ELBERT D. HAYFORD of Farmington

For State Senator
GEORGE W. WALKER of Warren

For Judge of Probate
EDWARD K. GOULD
of Rockland

For Clerk of Courts
MILTON M. GRIFFIN
of Rockland

For County Treasurer
EDWARD R. VEAZIE
of Rockland

For Sheriff
RAYMOND E. THURSTON
of Rockland

For County Attorney
LEONARD R. CAMPBELL
of Rockland

For County Commissioner
GEORGE W. GUSHEE of Appleton

For Representatives to Legislature
Rockland—Rodney I. Thompson,
Thomaston, South Thomaston,
Friendship, Cushing and Owl's Head,
Hollis H. Gilchrist of Thomaston,
Rockport, Warren, Union and Washington—Samuel E. Norwood of Warren.

Camden, Hope and Appleton—Zelma M. DeWain of Camden, Vinehaven, North Haven, St. George and Hatt, Matineau and Crispin—James O. Brown of North Haven.

PROFITS WERE SMALL

But the Elks Charity Circus Brought Many To Town and Pleased All.

Putting aside for the moment the unpleasant fact that only a small profit was realized, more than passing credit should be bestowed upon the committee which had charge of the Elks Charity Circus last week. Even those who were inclined to criticize the so-called games of chance, but which were converted into games of skill, so far as possible, were obliged to admit that the circus proper was made up of high class entertainment, most of the acts having few superiors in any of the large tent shows which traverse the continent. Good, clean acts, which were a delight to watch, and which crowded up to the echo, The Courier-Gazette believes that it places a correct estimate on the situation when it says that the show was much better than anybody had been led to expect.

It brought thousands of visitors into the city, and thousands of dollars found their way into the regular channels of trade. Everybody had a good time, and everybody benefited—except the committees from Rockland Lodge of Elks which worked so hard to make the week a success and to put by a fund which the Lodge would later expend for local charity—the kind which does good where our own people see it, and which is accounted for to the penny without shrinkage for administration.

Then a word of praise and a word of thanks for the Lodge as a unit, and for all its members who worked so wholeheartedly for the success of the circus, sacrificing their own time and business for the public good. In connection with the Charity Circus, Rockland Lodge of Elks gave away two automobiles. The Apperson went to William Steuffer of 2446 Lebanon avenue, West Philadelphia, who has been stopping in Port Clyde, and who was on his way home when the awards were made. The Oldsmobile was presented to F. X. Bresnahan, director of manual training in the Camden schools. Mr. Steuffer is a superintendent of schools in moderate circumstances, and owns no automobile. Mr. and Mrs. Bresnahan were married a year ago, and had been longing for a new car. Their delight was unbounded. Owing to stormy nights and bad breaks all around, the Elks Charity Circus derives small profit from its industrial efforts.

"Practice makes perfect" but this attainment is the only one the drunken driver misses by a mile.

For preserving use Queen Glass Jars. Pints $1.50; quarts $1.75 per dozen at Gonia's—adv. 85-17

REPUBLICANS ARE CONFIDENT

And Will Carry the Fight Into La Follette's Stronghold—Optimism Expressed in Washington.

Before the campaign can in reality be said to have fairly started, the political observer here cannot escape the conclusion that members of the Republican Administration from the President down the line, are well satisfied with the political prospect, if they are not, indeed, supremely confident of its outcome, writes C. S. Groves, Washington correspondent of the Boston Globe. The Republican managers are prepared now to carry the fight into the States in the Northwest, admittedly the stronghold of La Folletteism, and the States like Maryland and West Virginia, which have hitherto been generally regarded as reasonably certain to give a majority for the Democratic Presidential ticket.

In other words, except for the "Solid South," the managers of the President Coolidge's campaign will go into every State in the Union in the belief that they have better than a fighting chance of winning and sweeping the country north of Mason and Dixon's line. As the campaign develops it will be seen that, so far as the Republican management is concerned, no State will be crossed off or neglected.

The menace to La Follette to Republican success has been greatly lessened by the presence of Senator Wheeler of Montana on the ticket with the Wisconsin leader and by his reputation of the Democratic candidate for President. The Republican view today is, that the La-Follette-Wheeler ticket will cut heavily the Democratic vote in the industrial centers in the East and that prosperity in the West will tend to minimize the damage the third-party movement will do the Republican ticket there.

Three or four months ago, not only Wisconsin, but Minnesota, North Dakota and Washington were classified as safe for La Follette should he become a candidate for the Presidency. Today, with the La-Follette candidacy an actuality, the Republicans are willing to concede the third party only Wisconsin, and there are some Administration leaders who are not ready to admit a fight for Coolidge in Wisconsin would be hopeless.

One hears less talk of the likelihood of the country falling, by reason of the success of La Follette in several States, to elect a majority to the Electoral College. That possibility was given serious thought by both Democratic and Republican leaders some months ago. But surveys which Chairman Butler has made personally and from reports which have come to Republican headquarters in Washington, the possibility of the election being thrown into the House of Representatives is very remote in the view of responsible Republican leaders. As they diagnose the temper of the country, there is very slight chance that this will happen.

The candidacy of La Follette and Wheeler is going to have its difficulties riding on an even keel from now to Nov. 4, election day, in the opinion of Republican and Democratic leaders who are watching closely every movement of the third ticket. Various groups of progressives and liberals who have endorsed the third ticket, it is pointed out, are strongly opposed to each other on

BRUNSWICK BLANKS CAMDEN

It Was Anything But a Walkover, However—Camden Here in Championship Series Tomorrow.

I SAW FRED THOMAS

at the Camden-Brunswick game Saturday afternoon. In the days when Knox county had a league and hired players abounded Fred was one of the Camden managers and he can tell you that the occasional scraps nowadays are rather tame when compared with the rivalry which used to exist in that period. Fred's loyalty to the home team is always unbounded, but I have never found him tardy in admitting it if his team happened to be in the wrong—The Sporting Editor.

Brunswick 2, Camden 0. Walker of Bowdoin and Price of Bates were the opposing pitchers in Camden Saturday afternoon, and when all was said and done there was little to choose between them. Walker's besting sin in college games was wildness, but on this occasion he failed to walk anybody. Price exhibited a tendency now and then to shoot at the ridgepole on the grandstand, but for all that he issued only two passes, and kept the hits well scattered.

With only two runs made in the entire game the natural thought would be that the stickwork was light. On the contrary the ball was hit hard and often and it was sharp fielding which prevented a high score. Brunswick's first tally was made in the initial frame when Smith's single brought D. Palement in from the second. The second was made in the 6th and was earned, a double by Smith being followed by Davis' single.

Camden, as on the previous Saturday, had opportunities, but with three men thrown out at second and two at the plate they counted for naught. The 12th, 14th and 18th innings were productive of sad reflections, but such is baseball.

Ozier, Murray and Davis gave a final exhibition of fielding, but as it was Jummy Young's catch, far back in first base which rated as the star performance of the game. Camden is apparently just awaking to this host and earnest player's capabilities.

Ferris Thomas also turned in a splendid catch in the outfield. In bestowing this proper credit, the writer would also apologize for giving Brunswick credit for a catch which he did not make.

The score:
Brunswick
McKnight, rf. 2 0 0 0 1 0 0
Sparsin, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 1 0
D. Palement, 2b. 4 1 0 0 2 1
Smith, 1b. 4 1 3 4 7 0 0
Davis, 2b. 4 0 1 1 5 2 0
E. Palement, if. 4 0 0 0 2 0 0
Coffin, c. 4 0 1 1 3 3 2
Charron, ss. 4 0 1 1 2 1 0
Walker, p. 3 0 0 0 2 0 0
33 2 6 7 27 10 4
Camden
Ozier, ss. 4 0 1 1 5 4 1
Young, 2b. 4 0 2 2 2 2 0
Price, p. 3 0 0 0 0 1 1
Grindle, c. 4 0 0 0 6 1 0
Boynton, if. 4 0 2 1 0 0 0
Mages, 1b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0
Murray, 2b. 3 0 0 0 2 1 1
Den Richards, rf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0
Thomas, cf. 3 0 1 1 3 0 0
31 0 5 5 27 11 3
Brunswick, 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—2
Camden, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0
Two-base hit, Smith. Bases on balls, off Price 2. Struck out, by Walker 7, by Price 5. Passed ball, Grindle. Double play, Ozier and Magee. Hit by pitcher, Price. Sacrifice hit, Magee. Umpires, Kennedy and Barker. Score, Winslow.

Oney, Rockland's star third baseman, is a great favorite in Camden, Saturday afternoon he batted to the Camden players during field practice and the applause bestowed upon him when he stepped to the plate amounted almost to an ovation. Many Rockland fans who patronize these Saturday games in Camden would like to see Oney playing on the Camden team, and it would look like a good stroke of policy for Manager McGrath if it could be arranged without embarrassment. The attendance from Rockland would be doubled.

Jack Kennedy's "mattress" saved him some broken ribs, or worse, in Saturday's game. "Ow, foul!" exclaimed Jack.

Managing the Brunswick team in Camden Saturday was Bob Toothaker, a former Bowdoin star, who pitched frequently against Rockland in the days of "Chummy" Gray, Horace Simonton, and others. The writer, who happened to be one of the others, had a very pleasant chat with Toothaker, between innings.

Next Saturday's game in Camden will be with the strong Westbrook team, which came so near to trim-

BARONET IN CAMDEN

Sir Otto Beit, Brother of Sir Alfred of Cecil Rhodes Fame, Spending Season There.

One of England's most prominent financiers, Sir Otto Beit, Bart., is occupying "The Rock," for the season with his family; later they will tour the West, taking in the Canadian Rockies and California.

Sir Otto, while he has never been to America before, is one of the leaders in England's development of South Africa; he is a trustee of the Rhodes Scholarship and hopes to have an opportunity while in the United States to get in touch with the various local committees of selection.

He has assisted medical research through the endowment of the Beit Fellowships, created in memory of his late brother (Alfred Beit, who was associated with Cecil Rhodes in the gold and diamond mining industry in South Africa); these fellowships have been in operation since 1910. The medical advisory board which advised the trustees is composed of the leading medical lights of England.

Sir Otto also interests himself in the extension of scientific knowledge, as a member of the governing board of the Imperial College of Science and Technology in London, on which body all the British Dominions are represented, either by their High Commissioners or by men appointed by them. This is one of the Colleges which gives the highest instruction in applied science and technology, and has among its professors the leading educators on England.

During the World War, Sir Otto established and supported one of the largest hospitals in England for the soldiers of the British Army and their allies; his eldest son, who was an officer in the British Army, lost his life in the great conflict.

Sir Otto is accompanied by his wife, Lady Beit, who was formerly Miss Lillian Carter of New Orleans; his son, Alfred, two daughters, the Misses Angela and Muriel Beit, and Lady Beit's sister, Miss Marquerite Carter. They are in Camden primarily to attend a reunion of the Carter family which will be held at Undercliffe during the present month. Among those who will be present besides the Beits are Mrs. Anna H. Carter, Lady Beit's mother; Col. and Mrs. E. A. Robbins, Jr., of Camden. Mrs. Robbins was Mrs. C. G. Carver, Carter, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rundle and family of New Orleans, Mrs. B. Palmer Carter and children of Washington, D. C., Mrs. T. Lane Carter and son of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Congreve Carter and family of Hammond, La., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hocking and family of London, England, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood Spiller and family of Hammond, La.—Camden Herald.

OLD ORCHARD MEET

Porter Adams Will Have Charge Of Big Airship Demonstration This Month.

Four days of variety in air maneuvers will feature the annual meet of C. Fayette Staples Post, American Legion, which is to be held at Old Orchard, Aug. 29, 30, 31, and Sept. 1. The series of events will include a great program of any of the great national air attractions and the air show will also bring to the fair a variety of ships. There will be the largest plane ever driven and also the world's smallest biplane which will be entered in a contest with the world's smallest automobile.

Porter Adams, vice president of the National Aeronautical Association, New England district, will be in direct supervision and all events carried will come under the sanction of that organization. While the many special features will take place directly over Old Orchard Beach, it has been planned to introduce a number of inter-city events which would take the planes over Lewiston, Waterville, Augusta, and Bangor, as well as points toward the New Hampshire line.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these things is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

La Belle Dame sans Merci
"O, what can ail thee, knight-at-arms,
Alone and palely loitering?
The sedge is wither'd from the lake,
And no birds sing."

"O, what can ail thee, knight-at-arms,
So haggard and so woe-begone?
The squirrel's granary is full,
And the harvest's done."

"I see a lily on thy brow,
With anguish moist and fever dew;
And on thy cheek a fading rose,
Fast withereth too."

"I met a lady in the meads,
Full beautiful—a fairy child,
Her hair was long, her foot was light,
And her eyes were wild."

"I made a garland for my head,
And bracelets too, and fragrant zone;
She look'd at me as she did love,
And made sweet moan."

"I set her on my pacing steed,
And nothing else saw all day long,
For sideways would she lean, and sing,
A fairy's song."

"She found me roots of relish sweet,
And honey wild, and manna dew,
And sure in language strange she said,
'I love thee true.'"

"She took me to her elfin grot,
And there she went and sigh'd till full of sorrow,
And there I shut her wild, wild eyes,
While kisses fell."

"And there she lulled me asleep,
And there I dream'd—Ah! woe betide!
The latest dream I ever dream'd
On the cold hill's side."

"I saw pale kings and princes too,
Pale warriors, death-pale were they all;
Who cried—'La Belle Dame sans Merci,
Bath thee in thrall!'"

"I saw their starved lips in the gloom,
With horrid warning gaped wide,
And I awoke and found me here,
On the cold hill's side."

"And this is why I sojourn here,
Alone and palely loitering,
Though the sun sets, and though the moon
And the stars are shining."

—John Keats

Wan-e-set Inn

Tenant's Harbor, Me.
Open for the Season

One of the most attractive summer hotels on the Maine coast. Everything modern and sanitary. Nice place for deep sea fishing and bathing. Fine state roads for automobiles. Fish dinners a specialty. Board by day or week.

For further information call Tenant's Harbor, Me.
Telephone 27 or write

CHARLES W. RAWLEY, Proprietor

Buying a Home is a Wonderful Experience

WE DON'T BELIEVE there is any other experience in life that of planning for and at planning for and attaining a home. Our institution specializes in loans for home building and buying. We help people to home ownership by a practical plan that means a very small initial investment—a very reasonable and convenient repayment schedule, and fine protection against loss both for the borrower and this institution.

Any family that will invest savings here and get a modest sum ahead, is in line for a home loan on terms that require but little more than rent. We have helped others. Let us help you.

ROCKLAND LOAN & BUILDING ASSOCIATION

Courses Offered: Commercial, Stenographic, Civil Service, Court Reporting, Secretarial Science, Commercial Designing, Professional Accountancy, Commercial Teacher Training.

Miss L. F. Henderson, LL. B., President
Miss M. A. Jones, B. S. C., Secretary and Treasurer

Maine Business Institute

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING, Open all the year, PORTLAND, MAINE
A position for every graduate in our motto: "SPECIAL INTENSIVE FINISHING COURSE FOR OVER-AGED STUDENTS."

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE—Ask about starting a course by mail in Bookkeeping, Short-hand, Business, English, Typewriting and finishing at the school. Full price paid for "no courses allowed on tuition." $5-T-3-4.
Register early and have reservation made for September 2.

COMING--

THREE WEEKS

AT THE STRAND

EXCURSIONS

Parties taken any time, anywhere, in the fine pleasure boat "Sea Horse".
Capacity 20 people.
Boat in charge of two licensed men.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION
Trip to a wild and lovely island, with picnic dinner served ashore on an outdoor grill.

RATES
All day trip, including dinner $5.00 per person
Afternoon trip, without dinner $3.00 per person
Moonlight Excursions with Clam-Bake and Bon-fire $3.00 per person

All Day Fishing Trips $3.00 per person
For further particulars
Telephones W. M. GRANT, Rockland, 21-12

Boat leaves from Public Landing, Rockland, and other places by arrangement.

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

Sundays Only
July 13 to Sept. 7th, inc.
Rockland to Bar Harbor and Return, $5.50
Rockland to Bangor and Return, $2.00
Rockland to Bluehill and Return, $3.00
Camden to Bangor and Return, $2.50

Proportionately low rates from intermediate landings
Steamers scheduled to leave Rockland at 5 A. M. Standard Time
EASTERN STEAMSHIP LINES, INC.
F. S. Sherman, Supt.
Rockland, Me.
Telephone Rockland 140

COAL

Just received 2000 tons of very nice Free Burning and Lehigh Nut, Stove and Egg Coal. The Free Burning and Nut and Stove is just right for Ranges and small heaters. The Lehigh for Steam, Hot water and Hot Air heaters, can't be beaten. It is durable, economical and full of pep. It makes warm friends and warm friends. Try it and be convinced. Orders by mail and phone promptly attended to.

FRED R. SPEAR

Telephone 255 97-102

NEW PUBLIC CARS

OPEN OR CLOSED
Go Anywhere—Day or Night
SPECIAL PRICES ON ALL LONG TRIPS
GIVE US A CALL
MITCHELL & RANLETT
TELEPHONE 227-M 93-12

Watch for the opening announcement of CROCKETT'S new 5c & 10c to $1.00 STORE.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE TIMES A WEEK

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, Aug. 12, 1924.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lydus, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that on the issue of the Courier-Gazette of Aug. 9, 1924, there was printed a total of 6,252 copies.

Before me, FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.—Psalm 16:5, 6.

On another page The Courier-Gazette "mast-head" the Republican ticket which the voters of Knox County will be asked to support in the approaching September election. We commend it to the consideration of our readers as embodying a group of gentlemen of proved character and ability, to whom every man and woman enlisted in the Republican ranks may unhesitatingly yield support; as well as to other voters who observing the trend in certain directions believe in placing in office men of conservatism and high patriotic ideals.

To denounce as a "warlike gesture" the practical taking account of stock of this country's resources in the line of readiness to function one hundred per cent as a live nation is the utterance that naturally rises to the tip of the professional pacifist. He reads this country's history through distorted lenses and has a sorely belittling opinion of his fellow citizen who can believe it to be possible that the United States, because it placed itself in a condition of preparedness for any emergency, should thereby feel it necessary to become an aggressor toward the other nations of the world. If ever there was a people that lived at peace with others, and consistently desired so to live, it is the people of this country. Taking stock of their resources on Sept. 12 isn't in the least going to alter that rooted characteristic.

Editorial comment throughout the State following the recent reversal gives little hope to the Democrats that there will be any considerable bolt. Some voters were averse to the Brewster nomination and a percentage of that number will support Pataingall, but it is equally true that there is a faction which would not have supported Farrington. Brewster has proven himself an aggressive and magnetic candidate, and whatever defection he may suffer in Republican ranks is likely to be offset in other quarters. The average Republican will hesitate a long while before he votes a ticket which will give comfort to the dangerous and radical element which is masquerading under the name of "Progressive." And to vote the Democratic ticket in this Presidential year means just so much comfort to the La Follette crowd.

I do not count the days I spend in wandering by the sea; The forest is my best friend, Like God it useth me.

Or on the mountain-crook sublime, Or down the oaken glade, O what have I to do with Time? For this the day was made.

—Emerson.

If anything were needed to assure the defeat of the Democratic party this fall it is the action of the anti-Coolidge Senators controlling the Senate committee appointed to investigate Secretary Mellon's conduct of the internal revenue bureau. These Senators have voted to pursue their inquiry, and it has tentatively been agreed that hearings shall begin September 1, just about the time the campaign for the Presidency will get under way. There is every indication that the proceedings will be closely patterned after the oil and Daugherty investigations. Every bootlegger who has suffered as a result of vigilant enforcement of the liquor laws, and every taxpayer who thinks Mr. Mellon's application of the tax law has been too severe on him, will doubtless be called before the committee and given full opportunity to voice his hatred of the administration of the treasury department.

Another Knox County town which has no reason to complain this summer is Warren. The Georges River Mill is working full time, and giving profitable employment to 199 persons, while the shoe factory has many orders ahead and is trying to keep pace with them by the employment of about 75 operatives. These are not "big" industries as some mill towns would view them, but they help make Warren one of the best small towns in the State.

The effort of anti-Republicans to capitalize the discontent in the agricultural sections will come to naught, because discontent in those areas is rapidly vanishing. Practical aid for the farmers, advocated by President Coolidge and enacted into law by Congress, is combining with suitable weather conditions to bring back prosperity with a rush.

Alluding to the President of the United States as "Kareful Kai Koolidge" represents about the height and depth of argument with which the Democratic writers seek to oppose that gentleman's popularity with the overwhelming mass of the people.

BREWSTER'S STAND

Republican Nominee For Governor Makes His Initial Statement of Campaign.

Government by blocs was denounced as dangerous and not in accord with the fundamental principles of American government by Ralph O. Brewster, Republican candidate for governor of Maine, in his first campaign speech, made Saturday before the Women's Lincoln Club of Portland.

Declaring himself as standing squarely upon the platform adopted at the Republican State convention in Portland and upon the principles of that party, Mr. Brewster also asserted that he subscribed to the provisions of section three of article one of the constitution of Maine, both in spirit and in the letter. Mr. Brewster said:

"In the last thousand years the Anglo-Saxon conception of popular government has been developed based upon the party system. In continental Europe popular government has been interpreted in personal terms with various blocs under popular leaders controlling affairs by a system of personal enmities. A dangerous drift in the direction of such a system in America has recently developed and I believe thoughtful Americans will unite in desiring a return to responsible party government.

"As the Republican nominee for Governor I should wish it to be clearly understood at the opening of the campaign that I stand as a Republican candidate, upon the Republican platform, advocating Republican principles. That is my position, no more and no less.

"As the days go by I shall be pleased to discuss with citizens of our State, without regard to party, what I understand to be the issues with which the citizens of our State are now concerned, and the position of the Republican party upon those issues.

"As candidate I stand not only upon the Republican platform, but also upon the constitution of the State of Maine. At the very inception of this campaign I would invite all our citizens to give their particular attention to Section 3, Article 1, of the Constitution of Maine, containing the declaration of rights:

"All men have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences; and no one shall be hurt, molested, or restrained in his person, liberty or estate for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience, nor for his religious professions or sentiments, provided he does not disturb the public peace, nor obstruct others in their religious worship;—and all persons demeaning themselves peaceably, as good members of the State, shall be equally under the protection of the laws, and no discrimination nor preference shall be made by law, nor shall any religious test be required as a qualification for any office or trust, under this State."

"This was written or inspired by one of the greatest Democrats of all time and seems to me to express in language of wonderful felicity the position of all good Americans upon the question of religious freedom. To that declaration I subscribe in letter and spirit.

"One issue seems to transcend all others out of the troubled experience through which we have just passed and that is the purity of our ballot. All good citizens must unite in seeing to it that neither in primary or election are such practices again permitted as have been recently revealed.

"The fact that the greatest corruption occurred in a Democratic ward with a Democratic warden in charge is no excuse for the members of any other party. It is a problem in which every good citizen without regard to party is vitally concerned."

DAVIS ACCEPTS

Democratic Nominee Outlines Party Issues—Approves World Court.

In his speech of acceptance in Clarksburg, West Virginia, last night Hon. John W. Davis defined what he regards as the chief issues of the campaign, and told the party leaders that the fight would be waged without kid gloves.

In his address Mr. Davis pledged himself to strive for: An honest, impartial, and so far as human wisdom will permit, a just government.

Opposition to any challenge—organized or unorganized, under whatever name or in whatever character it may appear—of the Constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

Enforcement of all laws, including the Prohibition Amendment and statutes enacted under it.

Agricultural aid through revision of the tariff; governmental assistance in extending the co-operative marketing principle and by other means.

Reduction in taxation and revision of the tariff.

Economy in government, but not of the kind that deprives government employees of pay equal to that they would receive from private employers for similar work.

Approval of the World Court.

Co-operation officially with all legitimate endeavors, whether from the League of Nations or from any other source, to lessen the prospect of war; to aid in repairing the ravages of past wars; to promote disarmament and to advance the well being of mankind.

To maintain the means of adequate national defense "until reason is permitted to take the place of force."

Opposition to the Impairment, "either by injunction or by any other device" of the rights of labor to organize and to bargain collectively for "an adequate wage earned under healthy conditions."

The protection of women and children from human greed and unequal laws.

Prevention of child labor and suppression of the illicit traffic in soul destroying drugs.

Conservation of all of the natural resources of the country.

"Grateful care" to the "veterans of our wars, especially to those who were stricken and wounded in the country's service and whose confidence has been so cruelly and corruptly abused."

Five Rockland Boys Add a Store in Lewiston To Their Rapidly Lengthening Chain.

The Alperin brothers opened another self service shoe store, Saturday in Lewiston, and did a record business. In announcing the new enterprise the Lewiston Journal said:

An unusual kind of a shoe store will open on Lisbon street in the store formerly occupied by the Allan T. Alperin Co., Saturday. It will be known as Alperin's Family Shoe Store, the tenth in the Alperin chain but the first in Maine.

The self-service system, originated by the firm, is the feature of this new store that makes the store different from most shoe stores. About 19,000 pairs of shoes, instead of being kept in boxes, will be displayed along the wall and on tables, with size and price indicated.

Thus the customer may wander along the walls, inspect all kinds of foot wear at his pleasure and choose for himself what appeals to him. Clerks will be on hand to give information, find sizes, fit shoes, and do whatever else is required of them. Preparations for the opening are being made under the direction of Henry Alperin, one of the firm.

The first Maine store was opened in Lewiston, Mr. Alperin said, because of favorable reports returned to the firm by companies investigating conditions in Lewiston. All reports, he said, showed Lewiston to be a progressive community. Other stores will be opened in Maine when business conditions warrant.

The stores now operated by the Alperin company are in Worcester, Mass., two stores; Pittsfield, Mass.; North Adams, Mass.; Adams, Mass.; Holyoke, Mass.; Rutland, Vt.; Schenectady, N. Y.; and Albany, N. Y.

Like its stores the Alperin concern is an unusual one. It consists of five brothers, all of whom were reared in Rockland. They are capable business men and hard workers. Each brother has charge of one aspect of the business—financial, advertising, sales promotion, employment, and purchasing. The brothers are always working harmoniously together, meeting every once in a while to exchange advice on their particular problems.

Isidore A. Alperin is the executive.

If you want to make a "long shot," here it is at a short price. The king of a Golf jacket that goes for tee on the green or tea at the clubhouse—Prices $6.50 to $10.00.

Golf stockings that go with your thoroughbred calves—price $1.50 to $7.50.

The right cap or white hat. Special lot of Neckwear 65c; two for $1.00; neat, attractive patterns.

Silver Gray Knickers, $7.50, $5.00.

Gregory's

IT'S AWFUL GOOD

Philip MaCone says "Daddy can't understand why anybody bothers to MAKE ice cream."

He says "S. & H. QUALITY Ice Cream is a lot better ice cream without the bother of making it."

Your dealer sells (2924)

Philip MaCone says "Daddy can't understand why anybody bothers to MAKE ice cream."

He says "S. & H. QUALITY Ice Cream is a lot better ice cream without the bother of making it."

Your dealer sells (2924)

S&H QUALITY ICE CREAM

Now with FULL SIZE BALLON TIRES

The World's Largest Selling 6-Cylinder Closed Car

The COACH

HUDSON Super-Six $1500 ESSEX Six $1000 Freight and tax extra

Don't miss this—the opening sale of CROCKETT'S new 5c & 10c to $1.00 STORE. One of the best stores of its kind in the State.

LIVERY CAR 7 Passenger Cadillac C. S. ROBBINS, Garage 21 LIMEROCK ST., ROCKLAND FIRST CLASS AUTO WASHER ON HAND

Agent for HOOD TIRES All Sizes in Stock 78-1f

CLEARANCE SALE PURE BRED AIREDALE TERRIER DOGS

We must dispose immediately of a portion of our stock to make room for new litters. Here is an opportunity to secure some bargains in pure-bred pedigree dogs, both young and full-grown, all entitled to registration. Several prize-winning show dogs, also breeding stock. A beautiful RUS-SIAN WOLF HOUND, male, included. Write or telephone Rockland 385 Ring 5.

LINDENWORTH KENNELS BANCROFT SCHOOL OWL'S HEAD, . . . MAINE 75&Tf

The Biggest Family In This Town Is the Family of Readers of THIS PAPER

Don't miss this—the opening sale of CROCKETT'S new 5c & 10c to $1.00 STORE. One of the best stores of its kind in the State.

LIVERY CAR 7 Passenger Cadillac C. S. ROBBINS, Garage 21 LIMEROCK ST., ROCKLAND FIRST CLASS AUTO WASHER ON HAND

Agent for HOOD TIRES All Sizes in Stock 78-1f

CLEARANCE SALE PURE BRED AIREDALE TERRIER DOGS

We must dispose immediately of a portion of our stock to make room for new litters. Here is an opportunity to secure some bargains in pure-bred pedigree dogs, both young and full-grown, all entitled to registration. Several prize-winning show dogs, also breeding stock. A beautiful RUS-SIAN WOLF HOUND, male, included. Write or telephone Rockland 385 Ring 5.

LINDENWORTH KENNELS BANCROFT SCHOOL OWL'S HEAD, . . . MAINE 75&Tf

The Biggest Family In This Town Is the Family of Readers of THIS PAPER

Don't miss this—the opening sale of CROCKETT'S new 5c & 10c to $1.00 STORE. One of the best stores of its kind in the State.

LIVERY CAR 7 Passenger Cadillac C. S. ROBBINS, Garage 21 LIMEROCK ST., ROCKLAND FIRST CLASS AUTO WASHER ON HAND

Agent for HOOD TIRES All Sizes in Stock 78-1f

CLEARANCE SALE PURE BRED AIREDALE TERRIER DOGS

We must dispose immediately of a portion of our stock to make room for new litters. Here is an opportunity to secure some bargains in pure-bred pedigree dogs, both young and full-grown, all entitled to registration. Several prize-winning show dogs, also breeding stock. A beautiful RUS-SIAN WOLF HOUND, male, included. Write or telephone Rockland 385 Ring 5.

LINDENWORTH KENNELS BANCROFT SCHOOL OWL'S HEAD, . . . MAINE 75&Tf

The Biggest Family In This Town Is the Family of Readers of THIS PAPER

You know there's a Glenwood in the cellar

SO much depends on proper heating in a modern home. A poor heating system leaves chilly corners in one room and hot, stagnant air in the next. But in a house that has a Glenwood in the cellar you will notice a difference almost as soon as you are inside the front door.

The modern Glenwood is the Single-Pipe Heating System. From its one big radiator it keeps a steady flow of warm air circulating through the house. It does not heat the cellar, which is a great advantage in country homes where a cool cellar is essential for the storage of fruit and vegetables. You can burn any kind of fuel in this modern heater—wood, coal, soft coal, coke and even rubbish.

The feed doors are wide enough to admit large logs, and the new wood grate will keep them burning night and day as steadily as a coal fire.

The low cost of a Glenwood Single-Pipe Heating System will surprise you. We shall be glad to have you come in and ask us for particulars. We can save fuel for you this winter.

Pipe models of this same furnace may be had in several sizes for coal or wood.

Let us look your home over and tell you what it would cost to install the new GLENWOOD. We offer very easy terms of payment.

WE WILL TRADE IN YOUR OLD STOVES

BURPPE FURNITURE CO. VISIT OUR NEW GLENWOOD BASEMENT

SINGLE-PIPE HEATING SYSTEM

Glenwood

reared in Rockland. They are capable business men and hard workers. Each brother has charge of one aspect of the business—financial, advertising, sales promotion, employment, and purchasing. The brothers are always working harmoniously together, meeting every once in a while to exchange advice on their particular problems.

Isidore A. Alperin is the executive.

He is the oldest of the five, 38 years old; the youngest brother is 28. Isidore and Henry founded the business with their first store in Holyoke. Four of them had been in the service during the war, and had no particular connections when they got out. Two of them looked the field over and decided their talents were best suited to the shoe business.

When they saw the advisability of expansion they called in the other brothers and soon the five were partners in a prosperous business. All the new stores are opened by Henry Alperin.

The other brothers are Samuel S., Hyman A. and Charles S. Alperin. The Alperin firm was the first to promote the "self-service" idea in the shoe business, and now upwards of 350 stores have imitated them.

Just think! You can now buy an APPERSON Jack Rabbit for only $1395

First with the Mechanical Gear Shift

A. C. JONES Maine Wholesale Representative for Apperson Motors, Inc. DIRECT FACTORY BRANCH SHOWROOM—FIREPROOF GARAGE E. O. PHILBROOK & SON, Apperson Service Station

TALK OF THE TOWN

COMING NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS

Aug. 10-17—Spiritual Campmeeting at Verona Park.
 Aug. 12—Cushing-Ladies Aid Fair and supper in Grange hall.
 Aug. 12—Washington-Church fair in the Grange hall.
 Aug. 12—Annual outing of Past Officers' Association (Masons) in Farmington.
 Aug. 12—Camden, Annual flower show of the Garden Club at the Yacht Club.
 Aug. 12-14—North Haven—Annual Chautauque.
 Aug. 12-19—Belfast Fair.
 Aug. 13 (Baseball)—Rockland vs. Camden in championship series, Broadway Field.
 Aug. 13—Children's Playground picnic at Oakland Park.
 Aug. 15—Annual meeting of Knox County Eastern Star Field Day Association at Peabody View Grange hall.
 Aug. 15—Fair, sale and supper at West-sawesburg Grange Hall, auspices M. E. Church.
 Aug. 15—Kubinstein Club's picnic at West-sawesburg Inn.
 Aug. 16—Rebekah picnic at Oakland Park.
 Aug. 18—Rockland vs. Eastern of South River, at Broadway Field (Friday Day).
 Aug. 18-25—Bangor Fair.
 Aug. 20—Thomaston County Fair.
 Aug. 20-21—Knox County Speaking Tour of Republican State Committee.
 Aug. 20-21—Knox Pomona Grange meets with women in Grange hall.
 Aug. 23-31—Washington Adventist Campmeeting.
 Aug. 24 (Baseball)—Rockland vs. Togus in Togus.
 Aug. 25-27—Waterville—American Legion State Convention.
 Aug. 25-30—Waterville Fair.
 Aug. 25-31—Northport Methodist Campmeeting.
 Aug. 26—Annual fair of the Bay View Society, Oat's Head at Tonn hall, Head-of-the-Bay.
 Aug. 26—Medonak—Lincoln county field day, O. E. S.
 Aug. 26—Thomaston—Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm, presented by Mrs. Edith C. Fisher, K. of P. hall.
 Aug. 29-30—Annual fair at Community hall, Simsbury.
 Sept. 1—Labor Day.
 Sept. 1-4—Lewiston Fair.
 Sept. 2-6—Rockland Community Chautauque.
 Sept. 6—Dog days out.
 Sept. 8—Maine State Election.
 Sept. 12—National Defense Day.
 Sept. 15—Montville Fair.
 Sept. 15—First day of Autumn.
 Sept. 22-25—North Knox Fair in Union.
 Sept. 28—Daylight Saving ends—set clocks back one hour.
 Sept. 29 Oct 2—Lincoln County Fair in Bangor.
 Oct. 12—Columbus Day.
 Oct. 14-16—Topsfield Fair.
 Oct. 17—Opening meeting Baptist Men's League.
 Nov. 4—Presidential election.

REUNIONS

Aug. 13—Whittemore family at North Haven.
 Aug. 17—Bills family at Oakland Park.
 Aug. 14—Philbrook family at Oakland Park.
 Aug. 14—Robbins family at home of George Robbins, Union.
 Aug. 21—Gilchrist family in St. George Grange hall.
 Aug. 21—Shibles family at home of Fred W. Shibles, Rockport.
 Aug. 21—Stearns-Spear families at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glenville.
 Aug. 27—Jensen-Fogler families at Penobscot View Grange hall.
 Aug. 22—Hoffes family at Mark Grove, Warren.
 Aug. 28—Knight family at home of B. H. Greenleaf, Boothbay Center.
 Aug. 29—Annual meeting of 19th Maine Reunions Association in Waterville.
 Aug. 30—Norwood Carroll families at home of T. J. Carroll, Mt. Pleasant.

Weather This Week

Weather outlook for the week. North Atlantic States fair first part, local showers latter part. Slowly rising temperature after first of the week. Cooler again near end.

Camden has a classy traffic cop—blue uniform, white gloves, whistle "n' everything.

Paul C. Nash has resigned from the police force to re-enter the employ of the Central Maine Power Co.

Ralph Nutt is having his vacation from Miller's shoe store. Lawrence Miller is in charge during his absence.

The construction of the duplicate power line from Union to Rockland has begun. The work will occupy six weeks.

Nobody is overfond of electrical storms but it must be conceded that they have been a Godsend to the garden this summer.

Patrolman Alfred B. Lamb has joined the ranks of summer rusticators. Special Officer Drinkwater is preserving order on the Northend beat meantime.

Those who have been claiming that there is a scarcity of flies this season, now have a chance to revise their views. The pests are here in full force. Swat the fly!

William A. Williams, or plain Bill, as he prefers to be called, escaped from Willis Ayers' store Saturday night, and accompanied by Mrs. Williams, is spending his vacation in Penobscot. His exile will be lightened somewhat by the fact that The Courier-Gazette is going to follow him thither, and he can learn the casualties of the next Rockland-Camden game.

The Crescent Beach Colony has an especial interest in the New York Yacht Club races because Alfred Lockwood, husband of Mrs. Florence Pearson Lockwood, is sailing the C. B. Seelye, 40-foot Schwara, from Bridgeport, Conn. The Schwara took the 133 mile race from Cape Cod to Islesboro, winning the famous Naval Challenge Cup. The next big race is at Bar Harbor for the "King's Cup."

Clothesline thieves operated in broad daylight on the premises of two Camden street residents Saturday afternoon, while the occupants were temporarily absent. Suspicion fell upon three boys, who at first stoutly protested they were innocent. Eventually they admitted their guilt, the clothes were restored, and they will live happily ever afterward—providing they adhere to the straight and narrow path.

If the members of the Fuller-Cobb-Davis force appear to be wearing an abstracted look these days it is all because they are laying plans for the annual picnic which is to be held some day this month at Ernest C. Davis' cottage in East Union. And an abstracted look is said to be at the bathing suits which were to have been worn if the storm had not prevented the appearance of the Fuller-Cobb-Davis fleet in the Old Home Week parade.

CROCKETT'S new 5c & 10c to $1.00 STORE will open soon. Watch for the ad. in this paper.

ASK ABOUT OUR EASY PAYMENT PLAN

Beautiful LAMPS

Look in our south window and see the wonderful display of new Art Lamps. The little Boudoir Lamps with hand painted opal glass shades are only—

$7.50

The Table Lamps with beautiful painted shades and chrome metal bases are only—

$19.50

The "Butterfly" Floss Lamps are the very latest styles; only—

$24.60

BURPEE FURNITURE CO.

Exchange Your Old Furniture For New. Visit Our Bargain Annex

Opportunity Class of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Robert Maguire Thursday evening at 7.30.

The plastigram novelty at Strand Theatre the last four days of this week is sure to amuse the movie fans.

Mrs. Mary Saunders of West Rockport is employed by Mr. and Mrs. Ensign Otis at the Farwell cottage at Crescent Beach.

R. I. Thompson moves the last of the week from his present quarters in Farnsworth block to the rooms in the L. P. Chase block, formerly occupied by the Chandler of Commerce.

Should tomorrow prove stormy the picnic of the Children's Playground Association at Oakland Park will be held on the following day. The children of Thomaston, Rockport and Camden have also been invited and everything is set for a grand good time.

Mrs. Lulu Loveland Shepard of Salt Lake City will speak twice in Rockland, tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Congregational church to women only on "The Mormon Temple Secrets" and Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Methodist church on "The Mormon Menace." These are community mass meetings with all of the churches co-operating. Public invited. No admission charge.

FANCY ASTER BLOOMS
Any Color, 60c dozen

SWEET PEAS, 75c Per Hundred Delivered Anywhere

L. E. CLARK, Rockland
Telephone 854-R 9744

NOTICE

It will be very helpful and save much of the expense of collection, if all subscribers to the Community Chest Campaign will pay their pledges as soon as possible to—

HOMER E. ROBINSON, Treasurer.

Oakland Park MYERS' ORCHESTRA

Will be with you again Tonight. I know you will be glad to hear it at

Oakland Park

CALL AT THE BOSTON TAILOR'S

If you want your Suit or Overcoat made-to-measure, or Cleaning, Repair or Dyeing

LADIES' WORK GIVEN VERY SPECIAL CARE

Any work done by us or goods bought of us, is guaranteed.

We carry a full line of Men's, Young Men's Clothing, Furnishings and Shoes. Our prices are Lowest Possible. Give us a try.

S. B. COHEN CO., 271 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND
Next to Studley's Furniture Store 97-102

BIRD GUIDES
FLOWER GUIDES TREE GUIDES

Huston-Tuttle Inc.

BOOKSELLERS

Open Evenings

BOOKS on the

Out-of-Doors

HERE FOR TRIAL

Light Cruiser Marblehead Runs Her Nose Into the Fog—West Virginia Next Week.

The new light cruiser Marblehead built at the Cramps yard in Philadelphia, and a sister to the Richmond and Detroit, which have already had their official trials here, arrived yesterday afternoon, and would have today been on the Rockland course for standardization if the fog had not shut in.

The shipbuilding corporation is represented by Chief Engineer Melton, and the trials are under the direction of the Board of Inspection and Survey, comprising Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrege, president; Capt. J. G. Tawressey, Capt. Ivan E. Hays, Commander John H. S. Dessez (recorder), Lieut. Joseph M. Simms, C. A. Ford and Herbert K. Moore. The naval tug Wandank is acting as tender.

In order to meet government requirements the Marblehead must make a speed of 34 knots, plus, and must attain a horsepower of 90,000. The light cruiser record is 35.93 knots laid by the Detroit. She averaged 34.68.

One week from today comes the super-dreadnaught West Virginia, which will have the most exhaustive set of trials ever given to any American warship, for the reason that she will be the last of the major ships tried on this course for a number of years. She carries 1600 men, and there will also be present on the trial a great army of builders, naval observers etc. It is understood that she will remain at this port a week or 10 days.

Regular drill of Battery G tonight.

Everybody will hail with delight the new telephone directory that is being distributed today.

Collections for the Knox Arboretum budget now amount to $24.55, which is a long way short of the $500 needed.

A. C. Jones went to Boston last night, and upon his return will bring a new Apperson touring car for John Hall of this city.

The American Legion Canteen went on the red tie tie Saturday night. The quarters will be used by the city for school purposes.

The nautarium border around the government lot east of the Postoffice, is an exceptionally thrifty one this season. Janitor Foley is boss florist.

John W. Harding of Paterson, N. J., a cousin of the late President Harding, was registered at the Thorndike Hotel Saturday, enroute to Bar Harbor.

Fred W. Mathews, clerk at the Augusta House spent the weekend in Rockland, and attended the sessions of the famous "Night Court." He reports a busy season at the State Capital.

The Camden & Rockland Water Co.'s new building on Main and Lindsey streets received its finishing touch Saturday in the form of a new flagpole. Supt. McAlary broke out the Stars and Stripes bright and early yesterday morning for the first time.

Entry blanks for the North Knox Fair races in Union have been sent out. Bids are collected for five classes the 230, 228 and 217 on Wednesday, Sept. 24; and the 225 and 215 on the following day. The entries Sept. 16. All communications should be addressed to H. L. Grinnell, secretary, Union.

Mrs. Frank E. Post and Mrs. H. J. Philbrook and three children figured in a "night have been" accident yesterday at the corner of Mechanic and South Main streets when the team in which they were riding was struck by an automobile, one wheel demolished and the occupants thrown to the road. None were injured beyond bruises and shock.

The Temple Heights Spiritualist Association will hold its 42d annual campmeeting at Temple Heights, Northport, Aug. 16 to Aug. 24, inclusive. An excellent program has been arranged with the Rev. Hobbs Jones of Bangor, Rev. Millicent Wilson of Malden, Mass., Olga Gunn of Boston, and Converse Nickerson, as lecturers and message-bearers. Mrs. Katherine Rier Wilder of Belfast is soloist for each Sunday.

Among the novelties which stand out conspicuously, says the Dry Goods Economist, first and most important, two cachemire novelties, both in very supple quality and of lustrous finish. The first is called Cashmores Zibelle, the second Zibelle Shouda. This latter has been brought out to replace satin for coats and three-piece costumes for winter, and has been ordered by all the important model makers in Paris. It is offered in black only. A wool crepe novelty which is also in great demand at the start of the season is Tramine Crepe. This is a crepe with stripes in open work effect run crosswise of the goods.

J. Frank Sleeper, who went away from Rockland during his boyhood, died July 25, in Montclair, N. J., at the age of 74. He was engaged in the laundry business until about four years ago, when he retired from active work. The deceased was a son of the late Capt. J. Oliver Sleeper, and leaving this city at the age of 15 made his home with his aunt in Montclair, where he established a permanent residence. He never married. Prior to his last illness, which preceded his death by five weeks, Mr. Sleeper had planned with his brother, William H. Sleeper of Cambridge, Mass., a return to his native city, and they had made many plans for revisiting the scenes of their well remembered youth. The burial was in Montclair.

Elizabeth Arden

of London New York Paris

Will have her personal representative in the Toilet Goods Department of our store on August 19, 20, and 21, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Miss JOHNSTONE will answer all questions on the care of the skin, and will give you personal advice in the use of the Arden Venetian Preparations and instruction in applying them by the Arden Muscle-Strapping Skin-Toning method. We invite you to avail yourself of this opportunity.

FULLER-COBB-DAVIS

ROCKLAND, MAINE

COMING SPEAKERS

Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania Among Those Who Will Be Heard In Knox.

Assignment of out of state campaign speakers was the principal business before the Republican State Committee yesterday. Among the men of national reputation who will come to Maine in addition to Charles G. Dawes, candidate for Vice President, who has already been assigned for Aug. 23 at Island Park, will be Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Representative Frank Crowther and Walter W. Magee, both of New York, former Representative Isaac V. McPherson of Missouri and John Wesley Hill and Theodore G. Riley, both of whom took part in the campaign of 1922.

Representative John Q. Tillson of Connecticut, spokesman for the Republican National Speakers' Bureau of New York, was present and told the State Committee that he would later be able to give them the names of other men who are coming to Maine.

Former Congressman John Wesley Hill will speak in Knox County Aug. 28 and 29. Former Congressman Theodore Riley will speak in Lincoln County Sept. 3 and 4.

Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania will speak in Knox county Sept. 4. Secretary of Labor Davis has promised to give Maine four days during the campaign, but the dates have not yet been definitely arranged. It is expected, however, that he will spend one day in each of the Congressional Districts.

"The whirlwind tour" for Knox county will be confined to a single day—Thursday, Aug. 21, instead of Aug. 21 and 22 as originally announced.

A card party will be given at the Country Club Tuesday, Aug. 19, for the benefit of the Public Library.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge has received an invitation to picnic at Oakland Park with Malden Cliff Rebekah Lodge of Camden next Saturday. Similar invitations have been sent to Waldoboro, Warren, Union, Appleton and Tenants Harbor lodges. Dinner will be served at 1 o'clock, daylight time. Members are asked to take picnic lunch.

The place for holding the Socialist open air meeting this evening has been changed from Postoffice Square to Tillson avenue. This meeting is in huge tin pans about 5x3 feet and candidate for President, Senator Robert M. La Follette. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Socialist Party organization and will be addressed by Alfred B. Lewis, district organizer.

The most notable feature of the Sunday night under show was not the sharp lightning, but the stuttering of the electric lights which flashed off and on at intervals of from one to five minutes at least a dozen times. Inquiry revealed that the dark periods were due to the kicking out of the electric heaters, the safety valve of an electric transmission line. When lightning plays around a pole or a tree limb ways across the wires a short circuit results and the circuit breaker drops, stopping the flow of electricity. After a minute or two the power station throws it back again and if the line is clear the lights stay on until more trouble develops. This particular shower was very severe along the transmission line and the public may be well pleased that no damage resulted.

Kendrick Searles, deckboy on the steamer Westport, laughed so heartily at the ducking received by another shipmate. Men rushed to the rail but fell overboard. Immediately there was great confusion on board, for Kendrick is a great favorite with his shipmates. Men rushed to the rail but fell overboard. Immediately there was great confusion on board, for Kendrick is a great favorite with his shipmates. Men rushed to the rail but fell overboard. Immediately there was great confusion on board, for Kendrick is a great favorite with his shipmates.

Women who wish to stimulate the growth of their hair should use Van Esso Liquid Scalp Massage. A glorious head of strong, wavy hair surely follows its consistent use, and consistent use is easy because Van Esso comes fitted with a patent rubber applicator that feeds the medicament directly to the roots of the hair, eliminating massaging with the fingers. And the flexible nipple of the applicator brings a healthy circulation of blood to feed the hair roots. Buy your Van Esso on 90-day treatment plan. Money back if it fails.

CHARLES W. SHELTON
DRUGGIST
364 MAIN STREET, ROCKLAND

PERRY'S Market

ALL WEEK SPECIALS

Fowl Fresh Killed, pound 29c
Finest Quality

BUTTER LB. 45c
FINEST FRESH QUARTER CREAMERY CHURNED POUND BLOCKS

ZA-REX JUG 25c

This is a new summer drink. Simply add ice water, nothing else. Za-rex sells in some cities for 50c. We have been selling it for 30c until now through the purchase of a large quantity we are able to offer all flavors at 25c.

CANNED BEANS

4 CANS FOR 25c
BIG VALUE FINEST QUALITY
NONE TO DEALERS

COMPARE OUR PRICES, GOODS AND SERVICE WITH OTHERS

CLEAN SANITARY WHOLESOME

NEWBERT'S CAFETERIA

Rockland's Finest Eating Place

Compare Our New Establishment with Any One You Have Seen Anywhere. You Are Invited to Inspect our Plant From End to End. Now Open For Business 24 Hours a Day at 306 MAIN STREET, ROCKLAND.

SERVICE QUALITY BEAUTY

Automobile Tops

We make tops for all machines with the only automobile top machine in the city. Tops repaired and renewed. All work of the highest calibre.

ROCKLAND SHOE REPAIRING CO.

School Street Rockland Opp. Postoffice

Sarah E. Barter of Fulton street, Rockland, and Mrs. Annie E. Welch of Belfast.

Funeral services were held at the home of his son Charles, Saturday afternoon. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. He was laid at rest in Auburn cemetery. John O. Stevens conducted the services and Rev. B. P. Browne officiated.

A. Friend.

BORN

Mealey—Rockland, July, 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Mealey, a daughter—Julia Rita.

DIED

Thompson—Rockland, Aug. 10, Juliette M., wife of Everett L. Thompson, aged 45 years 8 months and 10 days. Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Burpee Parlor.

Heald—Thomaston, Aug. 9, Susie Fossell, wife of Dr. A. P. Heald, aged 67 years, 2 months and 2 days.

Smith—Thomaston, Aug. 9, William H. Smith, aged 82 years, 9 months and 1 day. Steeper—Montclair, N. J., July 25, Frank Sleeper, formerly of Rockland, aged 74 years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank relatives and many friends for their kindness and sympathy extended on the death of our loving husband and father, John K. Collins, also for the beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs. Emma C. Collins, James A. Collins, Charles L. Collins.

The two New England States of Massachusetts and Connecticut, where accurate records are kept, show a frightful increase of fatalities this far in 1924 over 1923. In Massachusetts this increase is 121 deaths for the first quarter, a jump of 42 deaths, nearly 60 per cent increase 100 per cent, and in Connecticut it is. Since speed causes 60 per cent of all auto accidents, is speed worth it? asks the A. L. A.

CLOVERDALE SPECIALS

Cream or Young American Cheese 31c
N. B. C. Crown Pilot . 14c
Hires Root Beer Extract 18c
Canned Lobster, can .. 43c
Kimball's Ammonia, pt 19c
Cloverdale Rolled Oats, 5 lbs. 25c
Pint Jars, dozen 89c
Eagle Condensed Milk 20c
Soda, bulk, lb. 7c
Best Lemons, doz. ... 23c

Special For Saturday
3 loaves Starlight Bread 25c

437 MAIN STREET

THE EVIL SHEPHERD

by E. Phillips Oppenheim

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

Copyright by Little, Brown, and Company.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Francis Ledsam, a powerful business man, in a murder case and succeeds in getting him off, only to be told by a young, prepossessing woman, who says that she is Oliver Hilditch's wife, that Ledsam has turned loose a dangerous man to resume his prey upon society.

CHAPTER II—Ledsam dines with his greatest friend, Andrew Wilmore, a journalist, at a fashionable restaurant that same night and, to their astonishment, they see Oliver Hilditch and his wife come there to dine, also. Before leaving, Hilditch extracts a promise from Ledsam that he will dine with him the following night.

CHAPTER III—At dinner with the Hilditches, Oliver shows Ledsam how he killed his victim and says his own death the same way would make his wife supremely happy. Returning home, Ledsam receives a phone call from Margaret, saying Oliver has been murdered.

CHAPTER IV—Ledsam gets the coroner to set Oliver's death down as suicide. Later on he admits to Wilmore that he has developed a keen interest in Margaret. He meets her father, Sir Timothy Brast, the evil shepherd, who tells him a crime will be committed before they leave the cafe.

CHAPTER V—While leaving the restaurant and waiting for their car, a young couple attracts their attention. The girl urges her partner, Victor Biddle, a young man-about-town, to go out into the fog and hail a taxi. He does so and is brought back, almost instantly, killed. The friends immediately connect Sir Timothy with the crime. In their own minds, but can find no facts on which to base a case. A Scotland Yard detective drawn into the case, asks Ledsam to call on Daisy Hyslop, the girl in the case.

CHAPTER VI—Daisy tells Ledsam nothing much, except that her companion had led a pretty fast life and was trying to make away from his old evil companions.

CHAPTER VII—By chance Francis meets Margaret and asks her permission to call, which she refuses. He tells her to ask her father's permission and Margaret begs him to have nothing to do with Sir Timothy, although she admits he is everything that is kind to her.

CHAPTER VIII—Continued. There were murmurs of sympathy from the four young men, who each in his own fashion appeared to derive consolation from Sir Timothy's frank and somewhat caustic statement. Francis, who had listened unmoved to this flow of words, glanced towards the door behind which dark figures seemed to be loomed.

"That is all you have to say, Sir Timothy?" he asked politely.

"For the present yes," was the guarded reply. "I trust that I have succeeded in setting these young gentlemen's minds at ease."

"There is one of them," Francis said gravely, "whose mind not even your soothing words could lighten."

Shoptland had risen unobtrusively to his feet. He laid his hand suddenly on Fairfax's shoulder and whispered in his ear. Fairfax, after his first start, seemed calm enough. He stretched out his hand towards the glass which as yet he had not touched, covered it with his fingers for a moment and drained its contents. The gently sarcastic smile left Sir Timothy's lips. His eyebrows met in a quick frown, his eyes glittered.

"What is the meaning of this?" he demanded sharply.

A policeman in plain clothes had advanced from the door. The manager hovered in the background. Shoptland said that all was well.

CONSTIPATION
gives, and energy, pep and vim return when taking CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS
Keep stomach sweet—liver active—bowels regular—only 25c.

PRINTED BUTTER PAPER PRICES
REGULATION SIZE WITH NAME AND ADDRESS OF MAKER AND NET WEIGHT, IN ACCORDANCE WITH FEDERAL LAW

$4.50 per 1000 Sheets
For Pound Size
Postage 15 Cents Additional

$2.75 per 500 Sheets
Postage 10 Cents Additional
For each additional 1000 sheets ordered at same time, add to the price of first 1000, $4.00 and 16 cents postage for each 1000.

$4.00 per 1000 Sheets
For Half Pound Size
Postage 10 Cents Additional

$2.50 per 500 Sheets
Postage 10 Cents Additional
For each additional 1000 sheets ordered at same time, add to the price of first 1000, $3.50 and 10 cents postage for each 1000.

THE COURIER-GAZETTE
Rockland, Maine

Every issue of The Courier-Gazette is a salesman, visiting three times a week the homes of this vicinity and soliciting business for its advertisers.

"It means," he announced, "that I have just arrested Mr. Robert Fairfax here on a charge of willful murder. There is a way out through the kitchen. Take his other arm, Holmes. Now, gentlemen, if you please."

There were a few bewildered exclamations—then a dramatic hush. Fairfax had fallen forward on his stool. He seemed to have collapsed into a comatose state. Every scrap of color was drained from his sallow cheeks, his eyes were covered with a film and he was breathing heavily. The detective snatched up the glass from which the young man had been drinking, and smelt it.

"I saw him drop a tablet in just now," Jimmy faltered. "I thought it was one of the digestion pills he uses sometimes."

Shoptland and the policeman placed their hands beneath the armpits of the unconscious man.

"He's done, sir," the former whispered to Francis. "We'll try and get him to the station if we can."

The greatest tragedies in the world, provided they happen to other people, have singularly little effect upon the externals of our own lives. There was certainly not a soul in Soto's that night who did not know that Bobby Fairfax had been arrested in the bar below for the murder of Victor Biddle, had taken poison and died on the way to the police station. Yet the same number of dinners were ordered and eaten, the same quantity of wine drunk. The management considered that they had shown marvelous delicacy of feeling by restraining the orchestra from their usual musical gymnastics until after the service of dinner. Conversation, in consequence, flowed more freely than ever. One speculation in particular absorbed the attention of every single person in the room—why had Bobby Fairfax, at the zenith of a very successful career, risked the gallows and actually accepted death for the sake of a girl, a girl who, a young man with whom, so far as anybody knew, he had no cause of quarrel whatever? There were many theories, many people who knew the real facts and whispered them to a neighbor's ear, only to have the neighbor contradict a few moments later. Yet, curiously enough, the two men who knew most about it were the most silent men in the room, for each was dining alone. Francis, who had remained only in the hope that something of the sort might happen, was conscious of a queer sense of excitement when, with the service of coffee, Sir Timothy, glass in hand, moved up from a table lower down and with a word of apology took to the vacant place at his side. It was what he had desired, and yet he felt a thrill almost of fear at Sir Timothy's murmured words. He felt that he was in the company of one who, if not an enemy, at any rate had no friendly feelings towards him.

"My congratulations, Mr. Ledsam," Sir Timothy said quietly. "You appear to have started your career with a success."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"You appear to have started your career with a success," Sir Timothy repeated, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

"Only a partial one," Francis acknowledged, "and as a matter of fact I deny that I have started in any sort of a happy way."

alone which set you on the right track.

"Well, there is my story, at any rate," Francis declared. "With how much of your knowledge of the affair are you going to indulge me?"

Sir Timothy slowly revolved his brandy glass.

"Well," he said, "I will tell you this. The two young men concerned, Biddle and Fairfax, were both guests of mine recently at my country house. They had discovered for one another a very fierce and reasonable antipathy. With that recurrence to primitivism with which I have always been a hearty sympathizer, they agreed, instead of going round their little world making sneering remarks about each other, to fight it out."

"At your suggestion, I presume?" Francis interposed.

"Precisely," Sir Timothy assented. "I recommended that course, and I offered them facilities for bringing the matter to a crisis. The fight, indeed, was to have come off the day after the unfortunate episode which anticipated it."

"Do you mean to tell me that you knew—?" Francis began.

Sir Timothy checked him quietly and effectively.

"I knew nothing," he said, "except that they were a pair of them young men of much stomach, and I knew that the greater coward would probably try to anticipate the matter by attacking the other first if he could. I knew that Fairfax was the greater coward—that that there was much to choose between them—and I also knew that he was the injured person. That is really all there is about it. My somewhat theatrical statement to you was based upon probability, and not upon any certain foreknowledge. As you see, it came off."

"And the cause of their quarrel?" Francis asked.

"There might have been a hundred reasons," Sir Timothy observed. "As a matter of fact, it was the eternal cause, there was no need to mention a woman's name, so we will let it go at that."

There was a moment's silence—a strange, unforgettable moment—for Francis Ledsam, who seemed by some curious trick of the imagination to have been carried away into an impossible and grotesque world. The hum of eager conversation, the popping of corks, the little trills of feminine laughter, all blended into one sensual and unmusical chorus, seemed to fade from his ears. He fancied himself in some subterranean place of vast dimensions, through the grim galleries of which men and women with evil faces crept like animals. And towering above them, unreal in spite, his own face loomed before him. He knew that he was the center of a knot which he regarded with horror and ghastrly, driving his motley flock with the leer of the evil shepherd, was the man from whom he had already learned to recoil with horror. The picture came and went upon the point of Sir Timothy's forehead, a courteous offered cigar from his companion.

"You see, the story is very much like many others," Sir Timothy murmured, as he lit a fresh cigar himself and leaned back with the obvious enjoyment of a cultivated smoker. "In every country of the world, the animal world as well as the human world, the male resents his female being taken from him. Directly he ceases to resent it, he becomes degenerate. Surely you agree with me, Mr. Ledsam?"

"It comes to this, then," Francis pronounced deliberately, "that you stage-managed the whole affair?"

Sir Timothy smiled.

"It is my belief, Mr. Ledsam," he said, "that you grow more and more interested every day."

Sir Timothy glanced presently at his thin gold watch and put it back in his pocket regretfully.

"Alas!" he sighed. "I fear that I must leave myself away. I particularly want to hear the last act of 'Louise.' The new Frenchwoman sings, and my daughter is alone. You will excuse me."

Francis nodded silently. His companion's careless words brought a sudden dazzling vision into his mind. Sir Timothy scrawled his name at the foot of his bill.

"It is one of my axioms in life," Mr. Ledsam said, "that there is more pleasure to be derived from the society of one's enemies than one's friends. If I thought you sufficiently educated in the outside ways of the world to appreciate this, I would ask if you cared to accompany me?"

Francis did not hesitate for a moment.

"Sir Timothy," he said, "I have the greatest detestation for you, and I am firmly convinced that you represent all the things abhorrent to me. On the other hand, I should very much like to hear the last act of 'Louise,' and it would give me the greatest pleasure to meet your daughter. So long as there is no misunderstanding—"

"Sir Timothy laughed.

"Come," he said, "we will get our hats. I am becoming more and more grateful to you, Mr. Ledsam. You are supplying something in my life which I have lacked. You appeal alike to my sense of humor and my imagination. We will visit the opera together."

CHAPTER IX

THE two men left Soto's together very much in the fashion of two ordinary acquaintances sallying out to spend the evening together. Sir Timothy's Rolls-Royce limousine was in attendance, and in a few minutes they were threading the purlieus of Covent Garden. It was here that an incident occurred which afforded Francis considerable food for thought during the next few days.

It was a Friday night, and one or two wagons laden with vegetable produce were already threading their way through the difficult thoroughfare. Suddenly Sir Timothy, who was looking out of the window pressed the button of the car, which was at once brought to a standstill. Before the footman could reach the door Sir Timothy was out in the street. For the first time Francis saw him angry. His eyes were blazing. His voice—

Francis had followed him at once into the street—shook with passion. His hand had fallen heavily upon the shoulder of a huge carter, who, with whip in hand, was belaboring a thin scarecrow of a horse.

"What the devil are you doing?" Sir Timothy demanded.

The man stared at his questioner, and the instinctive antagonism of race vibrated in his truculent reply. The carter was a heavy-faced, untidy-looking brute, yet powerful, built and with huge shoulders. Sir Timothy, straight as a dart, without overcoat or any covering to his thin evening clothes, looked like a striding in front of him.

"I'm whipping 'er, if yer want to know," was the carter's reply. "I've got to get up the 'ill, 'aven't I? Garn and mind yer own business!"

"This is my business," Sir Timothy declared, laying his hand upon the neck of the horse. "I am an official of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. You are laying yourself open to a fine for your treatment of this poor brute."

"I'll lay myself open for a fine for the treatment of something else, if you don't quit 'old of my 'oss'!" the carter retorted, throwing his whip back into the wagon and coming a step nearer. "Der 'ear' I!"

Francis, who had been standing by, moved a little uneasily in her place. Her tone, nevertheless, remained firm.

"Could you possibly manage to avoid personalities in your conversation, Mr. Ledsam?" she begged.

"I have tried already to tell you how I feel about such things," Francis realized that with a little sigh.

"Were you surprised to see me with your father?" he asked, a little inanely.

"I cannot conceive what you two have found in common," she answered.

"Perhaps our interest in you," he replied. "By-the-by, I have just seen him perform a quixotic but a very fine action," Francis said. "He stopped a carter from thrashing his horse, knocked him down, bought the horse from him and sent it home."

She was mildly interested.

"An amiable side of my father's character which no one would suspect," she remarked. "The entire park of his country house at Hatch End is given over to broken-down animals."

"I am one of those," he confessed, "who find this trait amazing."

"And I am another," she remarked coolly. "If any one settled down seriously to such a thing, I stand my father, he would need the spectacles of a De Quincey, the outlook of a Voltaire, and the callousness of a Borgias. You see, he doesn't lend himself to any of the recognized standards."

"Neither do I," he said boldly.

She looked away from him across the house, to where Sir Timothy was talking to a man and woman in one of the ground-floor boxes. Francis recognized them with some surprise as agricultural dukes and his daughter Lady Cynthia Milton, one of the most beautiful and famous young women in London.

"Your father goes far afield for his friends," Francis remarked.

"My father has no friends," she replied. "He has many acquaintances. I doubt whether he has a single confidant. I expect Cynthia is trying to persuade him to invite her to his next party at the Walled House."

"You think she would fall, wouldn't you?" he asked.

"Why should you think that?" Francis shrugged his shoulders slightly.

"Your father's entertainments have the reputation of being somewhat unique," he remarked. "You do not, by-the-by, attend them yourself?"

"You must remember that I have had very few opportunities so far," she observed. "Besides, Cynthia has tastes which I do not share."

"As for instance?"

"She goes to the National Sporting Club," she said, "and I know, over a hundred miles to go to a bull fight."

"On the whole," Francis said, "I am glad that you do not share her tastes."

"You know her?" Margaret inquired.

"Indifferently well," Francis replied. "I knew her when she was a child, and we seem to come together every now and then at long intervals. As a debutante she was charming. Lately it seems to me that she has got into the wrong set."

She motioned to the chair in the front of the box, facing the stage.

"You must sit there," she insisted. "I prefer always to remain here, and my father always likes to face the audience. I really believe," she went on, "that he likes to catch the eye of the journalist who writes little gossip items, and to see his name in print."

"But you yourself?" Francis ventured.

"I fancy that my reasons for preferring seclusion should be obvious enough," she replied, a little bitterly.

"My daughter is inclined, I fear, to be a little morbid," Sir Timothy said, settling down in his place.

Francis made no reply. A triangular conversation of this sort was almost impossible. The members of the orchestra were already climbing up to their places, in preparation for the overture to the last act. Sir Timothy rose to his feet.

"You will excuse me for a moment," he begged. "I see a lady to whom I must pay my respects."

Francis drew a sigh of relief at his departure. He turned at once to his companion.

"Did you mind my coming?" he asked.

"Mind it?" she repeated, with almost insolent nonchalance. "Why should it affect me in any way? My father's friends come and go. I have no interest in any of them."

"But," he protested, "I want you to be interested in me."

"I moved a little uneasily in her place. Her tone, nevertheless, remained firm.

"Could you possibly manage to avoid personalities in your conversation, Mr. Ledsam?" she begged.

"I have tried already to tell you how I feel about such things," Francis realized that with a little sigh.

"Were you surprised to see me with your father?" he asked, a little inanely.

"I cannot conceive what you two have found in common," she answered.

"Perhaps our interest in you," he replied. "By-the-by, I have just seen him perform a quixotic but a very fine action," Francis said. "He stopped a carter from thrashing his horse, knocked him down, bought the horse from him and sent it home."

She was mildly interested.

"An amiable side of my father's character which no one would suspect," she remarked. "The entire park of his country house at Hatch End is given over to broken-down animals."

"I am one of those," he confessed, "who find this trait amazing."

"And I am another," she remarked coolly. "If any one settled down seriously to such a thing, I stand my father, he would need the spectacles of a De Quincey, the outlook of a Voltaire, and the callousness of a Borgias. You see, he doesn't lend himself to any of the recognized standards."

"Neither do I," he said boldly.

She looked away from him across the house, to where Sir Timothy was talking to a man and woman in one of the ground-floor boxes. Francis recognized them with some surprise as agricultural dukes and his daughter Lady Cynthia Milton, one of the most beautiful and famous young women in London.

"Your father goes far afield for his friends," Francis remarked.

"My father has no friends," she replied. "He has many acquaintances. I doubt whether he has a single confidant. I expect Cynthia is trying to persuade him to invite her to his next party at the Walled House."

"You think she would fall, wouldn't you?" he asked.

"Why should you think that?" Francis shrugged his shoulders slightly.

"Your father's entertainments have the reputation of being somewhat unique," he remarked. "You do not, by-the-by, attend them yourself?"

"You must remember that I have had very few opportunities so far," she observed. "Besides, Cynthia has tastes which I do not share."

"As for instance?"

"I am not sure that I agree with you," he protested. "Your father seems to have taken quite a fancy to me."

"And you?" she murmured.

"Well, I like the way he bought that horse," Francis admitted. "And I am beginning to realize that there may be something in the passion which he advanced when he invited me to accompany him here this evening—that there is a certain piquancy in one's intercourse with an enemy, which friendship lacks. There may be complexities in his character which as yet I have not appreciated."

The curtain had gone up and the last act of the opera had commenced. She leaned back in her chair. Without a word or even a gesture, he understood that a curtain had been let down between them. He obeyed her unspoken wish and relapsed into silence. Her very absorption, after all, was a hopeful sign. She would have him believe that she felt nothing, that she was living outside all the passion and sentiment of life. Yet she was absorbed in the music.

Sir Timothy came back and seated himself silently. It was not until the tumult of applause which broke out after the great song of the French quater that a word passed between them.

Not another word was spoken until the curtain fell. Francis lingered for a moment over the arrangement of her cloak. Sir Timothy was already outside, talking to some acquaintances.

"It has been a great pleasure to see you like this unexpectedly," he said, a little wistfully.

"I cannot imagine why," she answered, with an undertone of trouble in her tone. "Remember the advice I gave you before. No good can come of any friendship between my father and you."

"There is this much good in it, at any rate," he answered, as he held open the door for her. "It might give me the chance of seeing you sometimes."

"That is not a matter worth considering," she replied.

"I find it very much worth considering," he whispered, losing his head for a moment as they stood close together in the dim light of the box, and a sudden sense of the sweetness of her thrills his pulses.

"There isn't anything in the world I want so much as to see you often—to have my chance."

There was a momentary glow in her eyes. Her lips quivered. The few words which he saw framed there—fancied of reproach—remained unspoken. Sir Timothy was waiting for them at the entrance.

"I have been asking Mrs. Hilditch's permission to call in Curzon street," Francis said boldly.

"I am sure my daughter will be delighted," was the cold but courteous reply.

Margaret herself made no comment. The car drew up and she stepped into it—a tall, slim figure, wonderfully graceful in her unrelieved black, her hair gleaming as though with some sort of burnish, as she passed underneath the electric light. She looked back at him with a smile of farewell as he stood bareheaded upon the steps, a smile which reminded him somehow of her father, a little sardonic, a little tender, having in it some faintly challenging quality. The car rolled away.

CHAPTER X

FRANCIS LEDSAM was himself again, the lightest-hearted and most popular member of his club, still a brilliant figure in the courts, still a brilliant figure in the courts, still a brilliant figure in the courts.

Through his appearances, there were less frequent, still devoting the greater portion of his time to his profession, although his work in connection with it had become less spectacular. One morning, at the corner of Clarges street and Curzon street, about three weeks after his visit to the opera, he came face to face with Sir Timothy Brast.

"Will you dine with me at Hatch End tonight?" the latter asked.

"My daughter and I will be alone."

"I should be delighted," Francis replied promptly. "I ought to tell you, perhaps, that I have called three times upon your daughter, but have not been fortunate enough to find her at home."

"I fear that my daughter is a little inclined to be morbid," he confessed. "Society is good for her. I will undertake that you are a welcome guest."

"At what time do I come and how shall I find your house?" Francis inquired.

"You motor down, I suppose?" Sir Timothy observed. "Good! In Hatch End anyone will direct you. We dine at eight. You had better come down as soon as you have finished your day's work. Bring a suitcase and spend the night."

"I shall be delighted," Francis replied.

"Do not," Sir Timothy continued, "court disappointment by overanticipation. You have with-out doubt heard

Gen. Lord's Retrenchments Will Make Some of the Departments Squirm.

What are classed as general functions include expenditures of the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government and also financial administration, the government supply services, the public buildings service, civil pensions and allowance administration and institutional and general expenses. There are 10 opportunities to reduce these items which aggregate less than $110,000,000.

A four-panel comic strip featuring two men in top hats and suits. In the first panel, one man asks the other what he is drinking. In the second panel, the man explains it's a hot chocolate and shows a packet. In the third panel, the other man suggests a different drink. In the fourth panel, the first man dismisses the suggestion by mentioning other people who have tried the drink.

WHAT ARE YOU DRINKING JUDGE?

I'M HAVING A HOT CHOCOLATE

ISN'T THAT A PRETTY HEATING DRINK FOR THIS TIME OF THE YEARS

NO I FIND IT NOURISHES ME

HAVE YOU EVER TRIED GIN AND-GINGERALE?

NO BUT I'VE TRIED A LOT OF MEN WHO DID.

Specialty: PROBATE PRACTICE
431 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND, MA
Telephone—Office 498; Home—66

Always Say
HET BRAND
Baked Beans

T-tf EAST UNION, MAINE

Know the tremendous pulling power of the Courier-Gazette ads.

ENGRAVED CARDS—Call at this office and examine styles. If you already have a plate bring it in and let us print you cards in latest size. THE COURIER GAZETTE

THOMASTON

Miss Matilda Burgess of New York is the guest of Miss M. J. Watts. John Sinex is building a sunroom on the East side of his house. He is also having his stable recovered with asbestos roofing.

One of the floral beauty spots in town is the "wild" flower garden of Mrs. John Creighton.

Mrs. Helen Bryant returned Saturday from Quebec whither she went to witness the departure of a party of tourists for Europe.

Russell Gray made a business trip to Portland Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lynn and sons Alfred and Walter, are guests of Mrs. Lynn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ireland, who also have as guest Mrs. J. French of Cambridge.

Dr. Alvina Peabody has sold his bowling alley to A. G. Merrill.

Mrs. J. E. Walker with Mrs. Aurelia Colmore as her guest will go to Philadelphia today and remain until Friday.

Yacht "Vagabond" is having a new mast put in at C. A. Morse & Sons boat shop. The yacht has aboard Capt. and Mrs. Crowley Loveland and Mrs. Hooper and daughter of Hammon.

N. J. They are cruising along the Maine coast. As usual when in this vicinity they called upon Capt. and Mrs. John Brown last week.

Mrs. Chloe Mills of South Hope and Mrs. Harry Robinson of Warren visited Mrs. S. H. Reid last week.

A. W. Hatch has returned from a visit to friends in Jefferson.

Miss Clara Lindsey who has been spending a month with her aunt, Mrs. Maude Silva, of Somerville, Mass., has returned home. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Martha Silva who will spend several weeks in town.

William H. Smith who had been in poor health several years, died at his home on Beechwood street, Aug. 9, at the age of 83 years. Mr. Smith was a native of Cushing but had made his home in Thomaston many years. He left a widow, two daughters and two sons. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. W. Strent.

Burial was in Friendship. Mr. and Mrs. John Tilson spent the weekend at Ash Point.

Mrs. Dot Fuller and two sons were visitors of Mrs. Winfield Brackett Monday.

Elmer Teel is employed nights at the Thomaston garage.

Mrs. Alice Kaler of New Haven, Conn., will visit Mrs. John Brown this week.

Misses Ada, Katherine, Ruth and Helen Kellerman, were guests of Lucille and Muriel Reid last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reid, daughter Edna and sons William and Frank, Jr. and Mrs. Alice Hodgman of Stratham, N. H., and Mrs. Henry Caldwell of Exeter, N. H., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Reid.

The sudden death Saturday of Susie M., wife of Dr. Albert P. Heald, was a distinct shock to her neighbors and friends. For 34 years she had been a resident of Thomaston. She was the daughter of George Fossett and Sarah Shepard Fossett. The function of friend, neighbor, wife and mother were all performed and in all these relations she will be missed and mourned. A husband and two daughters, Mrs. Lilla Elliot and Miss Gladys Heald, survive her. Private funeral services will be held this afternoon.

Miss Cone of Jamaica Plains, Mass., is visiting Miss Cottam, Beechwood street.

Clarence Robinson has returned from Portland where he was treated at the Eye and Ear Infirmary. His eyesight is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Agerson returned to their home in Malden, Saturday.

Henry McDonald was in Deer Isle Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Clements of Philadelphia, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Tilson, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smalley and child are guests of Mrs. Clarence Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pales spent the weekend in Portland.

Frank Jacobs is chauffeur for John Sinex.

The decree of the County Commissioners is that Thomaston must repair the Wadsworth street bridge and have it open for travel Sept. 8, next. Quick work that!

The summer girl in mannish attire is a conspicuous figure on the street these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Parker of Schenectady, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones and daughter Evelyn are visiting relatives here, left for their homes Saturday by motor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weeks and niece Lucy Sukerforth and Mrs. Alpheus Jones motored to Washington Sunday visiting old friends and neighbors.

Stuck!!!

HANLEY'S "SPECIALS"

Potatoes, peck 33c
Evap. Milk, can 10c
Cream Tartar, lb. 35c
Pint Jars, doz. $1.15
Quart Jars, doz. $1.35

Auto Delivery
TEL. 162. THOMASTON

SHOE REPAIRING
ANDREW REKILA

GREEN STREET, THOMASTON
Aug 14 I shall open a new Shoe Repair Shop for the public. Bring all your old shoes, or send them by mail. I guarantee good work at reasonable prices. All shoes mailed will be returned the following day. 97-98

WARREN

Mrs. Howard Bachelier and two children who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Spear for several weeks returned Saturday to their home in Rosindale, Mass., accompanied by Miss Hilda Wilson who will make a two week visit there.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Meserve and Miss Helen Blanchard of Waterville were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Russell and daughter Ellen of Ellsworth were weekend guests of Mrs. Ida Russell.

George O'Brien of Oakland was a welcome caller on old friends here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cook as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Andrews enjoyed a motor trip to Camden Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Moore and daughter Frances with Herbert Bucklin enjoyed a motor trip to Round Pond and Pemaquid Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Locke, Vivian Stuart and Roger Kallio of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Copeland and Mrs. Emma Seavey of Thomaston were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Robinson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones and daughter Evelyn of Waterville, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Jones of Thomaston and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Parker of Schenectady, N. Y., were also recent callers on Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Robinson.

There will be no Pleasantville School reunion this year because of so many deaths among the members.

Mrs. Gertrude H. Weaver of Cambridge, passed a mid-week at the Echo House, meeting old friends and ladies.

Thursday of this week the Ladies Circle of the Congregational church will hold a sale at the church parlors with these chairmen: Fanny Thibault, Nettie Jamison; apron table, Elizabeth Munsey; candy table, Evelyn Robinson; ice cream, Carrie Smith; flower table, Grace Spear; mystery booth, Susan Stevens. Supper will be served at the usual hour.

CALDERWOOD FAMILY
The twenty-seventh reunion of the Calderwood Association will be held at Pemaquid Village Grange hall, Glenview, Aug. 20.

HOFFSES FAMILY
The 42nd annual reunion of the Hoffses Family will be held at Main Street Reunion Grove, Warren, Thursday, Aug. 28. Edith M. Carroll, Sec. 97-102

FOGLER-PAYSON FAMILIES
The Fogler-Payson families will hold their annual reunion at Pemaquid Village Grange hall, Wednesday, Aug. 27. No postponement. Mattie Fogler Clark, Sec. 96-97

PHILBROOK FAMILY
The annual reunion of the Philbrook family will be held at Oakland Park, Thursday, August 14. Mrs. Frank A. Ingraham, Secretary. 96-97

NORWOOD-CARROLL FAMILIES
The annual reunion of the Norwood-Carroll families will be held at the home of T. J. Carroll, Mount Pleasant Saturday, Aug. 30. 92-104 Bessie Norwood, Sec.

WIRELESS SUPPLIES
W. P. STRONG
WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER
WALL PAPER
ELECTRIC LAMPS AND SUPPLIES
THOMASTON, MAINE
Tues-1f

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

DAT OLE 'LAHM CLOCK O'
MINE DONE GOT DE DEBIL
IN IT; IT GOT OFF IN DE
MAWNN' FO TIME T' GIT UP EN STOP RUNNIN' IN DE EVENIN' WHILS' AN WATCHIN' FUH QUITTIN'-TIME!

CAMDEN

Wilkes E. Parsons of Dover-Foxcroft, Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game, with several other commissioners, left for town Saturday to make arrangements to establish a new pool at the Fish Hatchery at Megunticook Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. George of Winterport have bought Daniel Sobel's house on Park street and will make her home here. Mrs. George was a former resident of Camden, the daughter of Capt. Uriah Lamb.

Miss Margaret Crockett is having a vacation from her duties as bookkeeper at Allen's Market. Miss Hazel Baker is taking her place.

Mrs. Lovell Thompson is at Knox Hospital where she was recently operated upon. Latest reports are that she is gaining.

Plazzy Bishop is having a new piazza built on his house on Jacobs avenue.

Mrs. Herbert Rankin was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Wiley at Swan Lake over Sunday.

Miss Gladys Young is the guest of her brother Jimmy Young.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Maker were guests of Capt. and Mrs. Norton at Seven Hundred Acre Island over the weekend.

Miss Beulah Lane who has been teaching in Medford, Mass., is a guest at a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates in East Vassalboro.

Miss Helen Roy of Newton, Mass., rendered the solo, "My Task," very pleasingly Sunday morning at the Baptist church.

Miss Beulah Lane who has been teaching in Medford, Mass., is a guest at a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates in East Vassalboro.

Mrs. Wicnandt of New Jersey is a guest at a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates in East Vassalboro.

Miss Edith Roberts is taking a two weeks' vacation from her duties in the office of St. Clair & Allen, Rockland.

Master J. Frederick Lavreau on Saturday enjoyed the afternoon with seven of his little friends at his home on Summer street. The afternoon was a very merry one. Games were played and refreshments served. Those present were his two cousins, Doris and Frances Harriman of Whitinsville, Mass., Louis and Dorothy Burns, Harriet and George Miller, Earle Payson, J. Frederick Lavreau and also his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Favreau.

Mrs. L. B. Mayo of Waterville is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Plish.

P. H. Thomas has been in Boston on a short business trip.

Edwards and family, who have been spending the summer in Holland, arrived in Camden Saturday.

ROCKPORT

Miss Hazel Lane who has been spending several weeks with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. George, Lane returned Monday to Waltham, Mass.

Rev. and Mrs. E. U. Hinchliffe of Boston were guests of Mrs. Delora Merrill Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Frank Campbell of Newton Center, Mass., called on Mrs. Fred Robinson last week.

A very pleasant family gathering was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch E. Ingraham. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Upjohn, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates, daughters Helen, Margaret, Edie and Ernest Maynard, George, Bonnie and Herbert of East Vassalboro, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Veazie and daughter Mary and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ingraham, daughter Ariene and son William.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shibles and son Ralph Jr., of Mechanicville, N. Y., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Shibles.

Loring Philbrook, yacht "Felicla," was in town Sunday.

Capt. and Mrs. George Lane and family have returned from Marshall's Island where they have been enjoying an outing.

Mrs. Everett E. Libby was at home from Saturday to Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster Harriman and daughter of Brewer have been guests of his sister, Mrs. Arthur Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Van L. Serson of Marcellus, N. Y., were guests of Capt. George Farnsworth's over Sunday.

Miss Nellie Wilkins has returned from Hope where she has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ardella Goding.

Mrs. Walter Guthrie, son Thomas and daughter Elaine of Roxbury, Mass., were guests of Mrs. John H. Andrews Saturday enroute to Castine.

Capt. and Mrs. Ernest Torrey and Mrs. Cecilia Cain spent several days in Northport last week.

Mrs. Arthur Elwell and sons Arthur, Eugene and Earl of Belfast have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Storms for the past week.

Miss Margaret Crockett has returned from Cambridge where she has been attending summer school.

Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Young and daughter Mary are spending a three weeks' vacation at the home of Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Harvey in Dover-Foxcroft.

Miss Nellie Farnsworth left Monday for Scott, N. Y., where she will remain for an indefinite period.

Albert Adams has returned from Bates College where he has been attending summer school.

Miss Marion Ingraham has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates in East Vassalboro.

Miss Helen Roy of Newton, Mass., rendered the solo, "My Task," very pleasingly Sunday morning at the Baptist church.

Miss Beulah Lane who has been teaching in Medford, Mass., is a guest at a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates in East Vassalboro.

Mrs. Wicnandt of New Jersey is a guest at a visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cates in East Vassalboro.

Miss Edith Roberts is taking a two weeks' vacation from her duties in the office of St. Clair & Allen, Rockland.

Master J. Frederick Lavreau on Saturday enjoyed the afternoon with seven of his little friends at his home on Summer street. The afternoon was a very merry one. Games were played and refreshments served. Those present were his two cousins, Doris and Frances Harriman of Whitinsville, Mass., Louis and Dorothy Burns, Harriet and George Miller, Earle Payson, J. Frederick Lavreau and also his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Favreau.

Mrs. L. B. Mayo of Waterville is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Plish.

P. H. Thomas has been in Boston on a short business trip.

Edwards and family, who have been spending the summer in Holland, arrived in Camden Saturday.

Bos'n's Pipe and Telephone Call
West Virginia's Crew to Quarters

The loud speaker in the crew's recreation room is occasionally a source of entertainment when some radio program of special interest is being broadcasted.

When John Paul Jones commanded, "All hands to quarters," a hardy bo'n blew the call on his little pipe and followed it up with a lusty shout down the main hatch. With the passing years, ships grew so big that it would take several minutes for a call to be sounded in every part. So several years ago the Navy Department began to consider the telephone as a means of speeding up orders.

The "Arizona" was the first battleship to be equipped with a loud-speaking system. That was in 1916, the very earliest days of loud speakers, and results were so encouraging that the Navy has equipped all subsequent large ships with these systems.

Navy officers have co-operated with engineers of the Western Electric Company in adapting each vessel to the art of naval needs. The system installed on the "West Virginia" has 100 loud speakers, placed so as to cover every part of the ship. These instruments are grouped on five circuits, any or all of which can be connected to receive calls. By omitting certain circuits for certain special occasions, those within earshot of these loud speakers are not annoyed by calls that do not concern them.

The system is operated from any of three talking stations: on the bridge, while the ship is cruising; on the main deck, while in port; and in the ship control room, during target practice and battle. A two-stage vacuum tube amplifier assures sufficient power to give good transmission. Its first stage has two tubes in parallel, and its second stage 10 tubes. A large number of tubes was used only from power consideration, but so that the failure of a tube would not affect the operation of the system.

But the loud speakers have not made the bo'n's pipe obsolete. No, indeed; he toots his calls as of old; only he throws some switches and steps up to the transmitter before he blows. First he blows; then for the benefit of those who aren't familiar with the little times he plays, he shouts the words of the call.

The ordinary wire telephone is much used in carrying on the various activities of the "West Virginia." A battleship is a busy place, with its equipment to be operated and kept in perfect order and its more than 1400 officers and men to be housed and fed. "Save time and steps—Telephone!" is nowhere more applicable than on shipboard. The switchboard of the "West Virginia" has a capacity of 200 lines, serving telephones located in every part of the ship. While at her dock, the switchboard is connected through the Navy Yard board with Bell System lines for official business.

Advertisements in this column not to exceed three lines inserted once for 25 cents. Six times for 50 cents. Additional lines 5 cents each for one time, 10 cents 3 times. Six words make a line.

GREEN IS RECAPTURED

Two of the Prisoners Who Escaped From the Waldo County Jail, Back in the Toils.

One more of the escaped prisoners from the Waldo County Jail was taken on Friday. This was Albin Green, 46, who was held for the grand jury in September Supreme Court on the charge of attempted murder. He was taken at his home in Brooks. A man saw him running across the field to his father's home, and called the sheriff's office in Belfast, and the father also called, as he had agreed to do, sheriff Littlefield went at once to Brooks and brought him in.

Roger Greenlaw, of Rockport, who was held for breaking into a cottage, was taken Thursday night in Searsport.

It is thought that George Pearson of Augusta, the third prisoner who was held for breaking and entering a house at East Knox and for larceny, and is a man of about 40 years of age.

A store at South Hope was broken into at 2 o'clock Friday morning, and $15 in silver was taken. The man was seen and he is described as short and heavily built and wearing a cap. Pearson answers this description, although when he left the jail he was wearing a straw hat, but he might easily have had a cap in his pocket.

No trip ever was made where there was not an opportunity to display courtesy. Don't board it, says the A. L. A. for some individual from whom you expect financial or other favors. Broadcast it to the unknown autocrat you meet on our highways. Give all a chance to say even jocosely. "There goes a gentleman and a scholar."

TO LET
Furnished House of Seven rooms with Modern Improvements, at 81 SUMMER STREET. Ready September 1.
C. M. HARRINGTON
TEL. 551-W 97-99

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

Statue of Liberty
Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head of the Statue of Liberty and the torch will hold 12 people. The thickness of the head from ear to ear is 10 feet and the height of the head is 17 feet 3 inches. The distance between the eyes is two feet six inches, the nose is four feet six inches and the index finger is eight feet long.

Washington's Flag
The flag raised at Cambridge, January 2, 1776, by Washington, is said to have been composed of 13 red and white stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew emblazoned on the blue canton, in place of the present stars.

The Smile Loses
As a rule grumpy looking men are not popular, but a druggist of our acquaintance says he likes to see them come into his store. "When a man comes in with a grumpy face," he remarked, "I know he wants to buy something. The fellow who approaches with a broad grin, either wants to bone me for a donation or stock me up with some unsalable line of goods."—Boston Transcript.

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

Statue of Liberty
Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head of the Statue of Liberty and the torch will hold 12 people. The thickness of the head from ear to ear is 10 feet and the height of the head is 17 feet 3 inches. The distance between the eyes is two feet six inches, the nose is four feet six inches and the index finger is eight feet long.

Washington's Flag
The flag raised at Cambridge, January 2, 1776, by Washington, is said to have been composed of 13 red and white stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew emblazoned on the blue canton, in place of the present stars.

The Smile Loses
As a rule grumpy looking men are not popular, but a druggist of our acquaintance says he likes to see them come into his store. "When a man comes in with a grumpy face," he remarked, "I know he wants to buy something. The fellow who approaches with a broad grin, either wants to bone me for a donation or stock me up with some unsalable line of goods."—Boston Transcript.

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

Statue of Liberty
Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head of the Statue of Liberty and the torch will hold 12 people. The thickness of the head from ear to ear is 10 feet and the height of the head is 17 feet 3 inches. The distance between the eyes is two feet six inches, the nose is four feet six inches and the index finger is eight feet long.

Washington's Flag
The flag raised at Cambridge, January 2, 1776, by Washington, is said to have been composed of 13 red and white stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew emblazoned on the blue canton, in place of the present stars.

The Smile Loses
As a rule grumpy looking men are not popular, but a druggist of our acquaintance says he likes to see them come into his store. "When a man comes in with a grumpy face," he remarked, "I know he wants to buy something. The fellow who approaches with a broad grin, either wants to bone me for a donation or stock me up with some unsalable line of goods."—Boston Transcript.

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

COMING TO NORTHPORT

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the late President Wilson, has postponed her coming visit to Northport until the last two weeks of August. She is to be the guest of the Louis Penningtons, and while there will meet her friends informally, but no large affairs will be given for her. The Penningtons' estate is beautifully located on Penobscot Bay, and will be an ideal place for Mrs. Wilson.

Marvelous! My awful Bunion 15min kept me awake all night. Next morning this Treggett Corner Drug Store sold me a package of FAIRY FOOT-BALM. Pains—pains went immediately—adv.

The Missing "Link"
The scene of the following little tragedy—farce-comedy—drama was the police station of Slowcombe-on-Mud. As the curtain rises to show music the Inspector is discovered at his desk. In front of him stands a weeping woman.

Inspector—Now, will you kindly give me, as near as you can, a list of the things a burglar took from your house?

Woman—Ten spoons, six forks, two vases.

Inspector (after writing busily for a moment)—Now, is there anything else missing?

Woman (brightly)—Only the fellow who took 'em.

Senegal's Giant Tree
It is reported that at Dakar, in Lower Senegal, is an enormous baobab tree, whose trunk measures fully seventy-five feet in circumference at the base. The fruit of the baobab, which grows abundantly in Senegal, is called "monkey bread." It is used by the natives for curdling milk and as a specific for certain diseases. Decoctions of the dried leaves are also used as medicine. From the bark strong cords are made and the gum that exudes from it is employed as a salve. The root of the young baobab is sometimes eaten by the natives.

The Smile Loses
As a rule grumpy looking men are not popular, but a druggist of our acquaintance says he likes to see them come into his store. "When a man comes in with a grumpy face," he remarked, "I know he wants to buy something. The fellow who approaches with a broad grin, either wants to bone me for a donation or stock me up with some unsalable line of goods."—Boston Transcript.

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

Statue of Liberty
Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head of the Statue of Liberty and the torch will hold 12 people. The thickness of the head from ear to ear is 10 feet and the height of the head is 17 feet 3 inches. The distance between the eyes is two feet six inches, the nose is four feet six inches and the index finger is eight feet long.

Washington's Flag
The flag raised at Cambridge, January 2, 1776, by Washington, is said to have been composed of 13 red and white stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew emblazoned on the blue canton, in place of the present stars.

The Smile Loses
As a rule grumpy looking men are not popular, but a druggist of our acquaintance says he likes to see them come into his store. "When a man comes in with a grumpy face," he remarked, "I know he wants to buy something. The fellow who approaches with a broad grin, either wants to bone me for a donation or stock me up with some unsalable line of goods."—Boston Transcript.

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

Statue of Liberty
Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head of the Statue of Liberty and the torch will hold 12 people. The thickness of the head from ear to ear is 10 feet and the height of the head is 17 feet 3 inches. The distance between the eyes is two feet six inches, the nose is four feet six inches and the index finger is eight feet long.

Washington's Flag
The flag raised at Cambridge, January 2, 1776, by Washington, is said to have been composed of 13 red and white stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew emblazoned on the blue canton, in place of the present stars.

The Smile Loses
As a rule grumpy looking men are not popular, but a druggist of our acquaintance says he likes to see them come into his store. "When a man comes in with a grumpy face," he remarked, "I know he wants to buy something. The fellow who approaches with a broad grin, either wants to bone me for a donation or stock me up with some unsalable line of goods."—Boston Transcript.

FOR SALE
DODGE COUPE
First Class Condition
Can be seen at the Fireproof Garage
DAVID GOLDBERG
96-98

Social Circles

The arrival and departure of guests during the vacation season is of interest, both to them and their friends. We are glad to print such items to supply you with information in this connection. TELEPHONE 771-770

Mrs. Nathan F. Cobb, Miss Ada Perry, Mrs. George M. Simmons and Mrs. O. E. Lowrey are at Lake Auburn for the week, guests of Mrs. George R. Pattee, at her summer cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry U. Schwartz returned home Saturday after spending two weeks with their son in Sanford.

Mrs. Blanche Costello and daughters Louise and Marie and cousin, Frank Thistle of Jamaica Plain, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Etta Jones. They motored here in Mr. Thistle's Essex coach.

Mrs. Carl Anderson of Stoughton, Mass., has been the guest of Miss Ada Simmons for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Marston of Jacksonville, Fla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Healey.

Mrs. R. D. Saville, Mr. and Mrs. R. Saville, Miss Barbara Ann Saville, Miss Gertrude Saville, Miss Helen McLean and John Parker are at Camp Roski, Crawford Lake, for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Moody and children of Lebanon, N. H., have been visiting Mrs. George Parker at 10 Laurel street.

The hostess of the next Education Club picnic Thursday, Mrs. Jennie Hill, Camden street, requests members to tell a story or propound a conundrum. The club president so requests each to go prepared to discuss current events, to relate their vacation experiences and to tell what they have been reading since club closed for vacation. These picnics are informal, each bringing her own lunch and the club serving light refreshments at the 6 o'clock supper through its chairman, Mrs. A. Simmons.

E. A. Rhodes is confined to the house, the Knollway place, with a severe attack of neurasthenia. Dr. Tuttle is in attendance.

Miss Mervin Young, pianist at the Park Theatre, is enjoying two weeks' vacation. Mrs. Marion Schroeder is substituting during her absence.

Walter Dorgan is home from Connecticut on his summer vacation.

Mrs. Lucy Glover and Mrs. Adele Webb are giving a luncheon for the members of their club at the Portland Hotel tomorrow, followed by an auction in Mrs. C. H. Berry's life.

George E. Cross, who has been spending the summer with relatives in Rockland, returned to Boston yesterday, accompanied by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. L. Leslie Cross, who will spend a week's vacation there.

Mrs. W. C. Dean, whose husband is electrical and mechanical engineer, is at the Bureau of Construction, is a guest at Castle of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Clegg of Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Clegg is president of the Waterbury Tool Co., J. J. Crane, general manager of the Waterbury Tool Co., and Mrs. Crane, are also guests of the Cleggs.

Miss Esther Harrington, who is giving a fortnight's vacation from the W. O. Hewett Co.'s store, is a guest with Mrs. Lydia Storer and children, of Mrs. Storer's mother in St. Desert.

Mrs. E. H. Witham of Cambridge, Mass., is making a fortnight's visit with Mrs. Minnie Cobb at 10 Claremont street.

The Charity Club will meet at Oakdale Park Thursday. Dinner at 12:30.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burns of Ringfield, Mass., are guests at Mrs. Burns' former home in this city.

Charles S. Alperin of Schenectady, N. Y., who has been in Lewiston to end the opening of one of the Alperin brothers' stores, arrives in this city tomorrow for a visit of a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tabor of Mattan, Mass., are visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. Mina Jenkins, who has been a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jenkins, returned to Portland Sunday.

George Gonia and daughter, Miss Nell Gonia, of Quincy, Mass., are visiting Edward Gonia's cottage in this city.

Mrs. Olive M. Gray, who has been spending several weeks in South Orono, is at her Broad street home for a few days.

Mrs. W. R. Kallach of Malden is visiting her daughter, Mrs. B. C. Perry, Jr.

Miss Ruth Locke of Boston is making a fortnight's visit with her mother, Mrs. Ruth G. Locke, South Main street.

W. A. McLean, Jr., of Boston was in the city Sunday to attend the funeral of his grandmother, the late Mrs. George W. Ingraham.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Spencer of Bath were visitors in this city Saturday.

Mrs. B. S. MacPhail and daughter of Brighton, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Simmons at Holiday Beach. Mr. MacPhail arrives Sunday. The family will return to Brighton the following day, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Spaulding and children.

SIMONTON'S

DEPARTMENT STORE

ROCKLAND, MAINE

ANNUAL SALE

TRUNKS, SUIT CASES

AND BAGS

ALL AT REDUCED PRICES

This sale will be full of interest for the returning vacationist, the student about to depart for school or college and for the thrifty shopper.

(See Window Display)

F. J. SIMONTON CO.

Miss Helen W. Fuller is making a visit in Gardiner, guest of Miss Elsie Lawrence.

Mrs. A. L. Cramer of North Wadoboro is the guest of Mrs. E. E. Hager, Grace street.

I. Newton Morgan is at Sibley Hospital for treatment. His condition is reported as favorable.

Thomas Griffin of Bangor was an over Sunday visitor in Rockland. He is coming later to spend his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Harriman and daughter Flora of Waterville were guests Saturday of Mrs. Caroline Sherer Sweet.

The Kallach Class of the Baptist Sunday school will hold a picnic at the home of Miss Mabel Kallach, Thursday afternoon and evening. Take picnic lunch and drinking cup.

Mrs. M. T. Randall has returned from a visit to Bar Harbor. Miss Kathleen Seavey and Miss Lucy Sewall, who have been visiting in Portland the past two months, have returned home.

Mrs. Mabel Demmons and little daughter Dorothy of Portland are visiting Mrs. Demmons' mother, Mrs. Annie Sewall.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Marsh are attending the National encampment G. A. R. in Boston this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Nevelson of New York and Miss Lillian Berliawski are leaving for Bar Harbor, where they will spend the balance of the month. Mr. Nevelson returning directly to New York, while the ladies will return to Rockland.

Lewis B. Clark and Howard Johnson, who have been attending summer school at the University of Maine, have returned home. Mr. Clark goes to Eastham, Mass., this week to visit his sister, Mrs. William Knowles.

Miss Celia Rosenbloom has gone to Monhegan, where she will remain until after Labor Day.

Miss Dorothy Schroeder of New York, a dramatic soprano, well known in musical circles, arrived this morning and is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Carlin.

Miss Reta M. Calderwood, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Swan in Auburn and attending the Bates College summer session, has returned home.

Dr. Libby and family who have been guests of Mrs. Simon Rosenberg, Broadway, returned to their home in Brookline, Mass., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sacker, who have been guests of Mr. Sacker's mother, Mrs. M. E. Sacker at The Meadows, returned to Providence Friday. Mrs. Sacker's son Fred Sacker of New York is now her guest.

Walter Quinn who has been at Knox Hospital for three weeks returned to Pulpit Harbor Sunday morning, accompanied by his wife and son, George L. Quinn.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Swan of Auburn are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. O'Brien, Jr., at the Head of the Bay.

Maxine Elliott plans, it is reported to settle $500,000 as a wedding gift to her niece, Maxine Frances Mary Forbes-Robertson, oldest daughter of Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson and Gertrude Elliott. Miss Forbes-Robertson's engagement to the Hon. Inigo Brassey, the only surviving son of Lord Willington, was announced recently. The couple, after the wedding, will take up their residence at Maxine Elliott's London house near Regent's Park. Miss Elliott's "New York theatre, which housed "Rain" during its extended run, is said to have brought her huge profits in addition to her other investments.

Fuller-Cobb-Davis

announce their

Annual Sale of Fine Furs

During July and August

Rockland, Maine

MICKIE SAYS—

SOME FOLKS DON'T REALIZE IT, BUT IT'S JUST AS POOR MANNERS TO COME IN HERE AND START READING PROOFS AND NOSING ROUND AS IT'D BE TO GO INTO SOME BODY'S KITCHEN AND LOOK IN THE VESSELS ON THE STOVE TO SEE WHAT THEY'RE GOING TO HAVE FOR DINNER!

WEST WARREN

Mrs. William Wiley.

Elizabeth L. Fogler, wife of William Wiley, died at her home here Aug. 5, following a short illness. The deceased was a native of Wadoboro, where she was born in 1839, the daughter of George O. and Catherine Fogler, one of a family of nine children of whom she was the last to survive. She became the wife of William Wiley in 1864, coming to his home at West Warren where she did all in her power to be a true mother to three children by a preceding marriage. Mrs. Wiley was a member of the Wadoboro Methodist church. In the main, her life was a quiet one, home and her duties taking first place in her thoughts. Although advanced in years she was able to do all of her own housework until within two years before her death.

Mrs. Wiley is survived by her husband, three stepchildren—Mrs. Charles Smith of Rockland, Willard Wiley of Warren and Bertrand Wiley who resides in Arizona, one niece and a grandnephew and niece. Funeral services were held at the home, Rev. J. M. Remick of the Warren Baptist church officiating. Beautiful floral tributes expressed the love and sympathy of relatives and friends. Burial was in the family lot at Sterling cemetery.

Girls! Get rid of your bunions! Everyone notices a big, horrid ugly bunion when it protrudes from stylish shoes. Treggett's Corner Drug Store guarantees FAIRYFOOT Bunions Plasters will conquer bunions—adv.

Speed is most essential to the motorist if he wishes to see his name on the front page. The Four Horsemen that jumped into fame on the silver screen, says the A. L. A., made a "one day" record compared to the four motorists that jumped into a silver stream while trying to speed past another car near a bridge. Each got a "headline" but couldn't read it from his seat in the hospital.

The Rubinstein Club is to be congratulated upon giving our people the opportunity to hear Mr. Draper, who would be warmly welcomed on a second visit here.

Ray C. Hopkins of Quincy, Mass., has joined his family here and is the guest at the home of his father-in-law, G. O. B. Crockett.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young and little son Henry and John Hill of Southboro Mass., are spending several days at Matineus with relatives.

Mrs. Grace Adams Holmes of Boston was a guest yesterday at the Thorndike, accompanied by Mrs. Honk, Miss Honk, Miss Claxton and Alden Williams.

Mrs. F. M. Gray and son Kenneth of New Haven, Conn., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Gard Wheeler, 34 Holmes street. They were here through Old Home Week and enjoyed the "Eks" Circus very much. They will return by way of New Hampshire.

Mrs. E. E. Stoddard and daughter Evelyn of Concord, N. H., and Miss Gertrude Rockwell of Everett, Mass., are guests of Asa P. St. Clair. Mr. Stoddard who spent the weekend here returned today.

The Tango Club, 32 strong, motored to New Harbor Sunday and were entertained by Damariscotta friends at the Benjamin Smith cottage. A careful inspection was made of the old fort and some desultory fishing indulged in preparatory to the day's big event, the clam bake. A rapid run to Damariscotta was made by O. E. Davies for belated members of the party and the return trip completed just as the top layer was removed from the clam pans. The technique of the New Harbortites in clam baking is still a moot subject with the witnesses. The bivalves are laid flat in huge tin pans about 5x3 feet and covered with seaweed. The whole is then tucked neatly in with a sheet and heat applied. The result is delicious beyond words.

The Main street decorators worked fast Saturday night, and when folks went to church Sunday morning the street had been restored to normalcy, with the exception of such stores as had used their own decorations. The circus left town by mid-afternoon Sunday.

Just a natural disregard for any of the rights of others, but with a deep and selfish feeling that their own rights must always be respected, are the two "beams" that shut their eyes to all justice. The two "beams" from improperly focused headlights are not one-half as dangerous as the two dazzling the eyes of the average road hog.

Be one of the big crowd that will visit CROCKETT'S now 5c & 10c to $1.00 STORE on opening day. Watch for the announcement.

TENANT'S HARBOR

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Rolland of Dorchester, Mass., made a brief visit with Mrs. Mary J. Hart last week.

Mrs. Arthur Stewart and son Charles Bath, are guests of her brother, A. Walter Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson Barter of Auburndale, Mass., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Barter of Wallston.

Mrs. Nettie Pellett of New York and sister, Mrs. Mary Spaulding of Central Falls, R. I., are spending the summer at their cottage.

Mrs. E. E. Hobart and daughter, Mrs. Katherine Henderson of Milford, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Nancy J. Wheeler.

Wesley Comstock of West Somerville, Mass., has joined his wife at Mrs. Emma Torrey's.

Mrs. Fern Rice and son of Brooklyn, N. Y., are guests of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. R. R. Pierson.

Capt. Charles Holbrook, Mrs. Thelma Harding, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown and son have returned to Massachusetts after spending a week at their summer home. Mrs. Holbrook will remain here for a few weeks.

Mrs. Barrows and daughter, Mrs. Cary Burr of Freeport spent last Thursday in town and attended the church fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox of Somerville, Mass., visited Mrs. Mary J. Hart recently.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles Hart of Deerfield were in town last week on a motor trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foster entertained friends over the weekend.

Mrs. Belle Clark and two children of West Somerville, Mass., who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Rivers, of Windsor, made a brief visit last week with her mother, Mrs. Lydia Hathorn.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grant and Mr. and Mrs. William Riley and daughter of West Somerville, Mass., are guests of Capt. D. W. Giles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins of Barre, Vt., are guests of John Wall. Thursday seeking of Alston, Mass., and Misses Inez and Beulah Hooking of Worcester, are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hooking.

Mrs. Reed of Boston, is visiting Miss George Hart.

Granville Hatchelder is working on Earl Barter's garage carpentering. Frank Morris is helping him.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hart and Mr. Philbrook and daughter of Rockland and Wadoboro, called on friends and relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Achorn and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elwell and children of Wadoboro were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Hall last week. They went on a fishing trip.

Alvin Richards and daughter Beulah, called on Dodge Hall Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Bowdoinham were weekend guests of Mrs. Warrington Gilchrist.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Never are spending the month of August at their cottage.

Mrs. George Peterson and son are guests of her mother, Mrs. Mary Fuller.

Mrs. Arthur Stuart and son Charles of Bath are staying at the old homestead for a few weeks.

George Rivers was a guest of friends last week.

Mrs. Emma Shook and children of Portland, are guests of Mrs. Amelia Taylor.

Mrs. Fern Rice and son Richard of New York, are guests of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. R. R. Pierson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fuller of Toga with ten guests were Friday guests of Mr. John Fuller. At 7:30 they went to the waterfront where they partook of a delicious picnic dinner consisting of lobsters, clams, pie, cakes, coffee and doughnuts and plenty of Sue's famous hot dogs.

If auto drivers would have all their friends and guests return home safe and happy after an auto trip, says the A. L. A., they should indulge in but little conversation and that of a nature not to detract their attention from the road ahead. Driving a car is not an event now-a-days that attracts much diversion; five seconds of inattention may mean a serious smash. Friends and guests who display unusual proneness in talking to the driver should be politely requested to desist or dropped at the next corner. A driver who turns his face toward those in the back seat and engages in a conversation will sooner or later, ditch his own or some other motorist's car. There is more than one way of taking a chance.

Some people are born with a twist in their systems. Nothing much that anyone can do will have the effect of straightening them. Even a corseter gets convulsions trying. Among motorists they are the "road hogs" and otherwise discourteous people one meets on the road, declares the A. L. A.

Know the tremendous pulling power of Courier-Gazette ads.

Popularity Must Be Deserved

In 1923 the people of New England consumed over twenty million dishes of—

COON'S ICE CREAM

Quality Has Made It Famous

Made by ice cream experts who have devoted their lives to knowing how, and using only the finest sweet dairy cream, the choicest fresh fruits and the purest of genuine flavors, Coon's Ice Cream has established an advance standard of ice cream perfection.

Our Week-End Special—Sat., Aug. 16

Nesselrode Pudding

One of the most popular ice creams we ever made.

COON ICE CREAM CO.

Burlington, Vt. White River Jct., Vt. Manchester, N. H. Portsmouth, N. H.

Berlin, N. H. Lewiston, Me. Augusta, Me. Rockland, Me.

Biddeford, Me. Haverhill, Mass. Lake Placid, N. Y. Port Henry, N. Y.

ST. GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caddy of Medfield, Mass., are visiting E. T. Hall. Capt. Wallace Brown is home from the C.G.S. for a few days.

Capt. and Mrs. F. O. Hill and son Willard of Matineus Rock are visiting at Mrs. Nellie Kinney's.

Pauline Beal and Evelyn Hyler of Matineus Rock are staying with Mrs. Charles Kallach.

Master Billy Caddy has returned to his home in Cambridge after spending his vacation with his grandparents here, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Caddy.

Adrian Kinney of Auburn was the weekend guest of friends here.

Mrs. Lilla Hocking and Mrs. Ada Jenkins attended church at Tenant's Harbor Sunday.

The Sunday School will hold their annual picnic at Fort Point Wednesday. All are requested to meet at the schoolhouse at 2:30 daylight time.

PARK

LAST TIME

TODAY

COMEDY

NEWS

POLA NEGRI

—IN—

"MONTMARTRE"

WEDNESDAY-THURSDAY

TIGER LOVE

PRESENTED BY ADOLPH ZUKOR JESSE L. LASKY

WITH ANTONIO MORENO ESTELLE TAYLOR

George Melford

PRODUCTION

A Paramount Picture

The amazing love adventures of a Spanish tigress and the man who tamed her.

—In Addition—

"FIGHTING BLOOD," Number Eleven

FRIDAY-SATURDAY "THUNDERBOLT"

It's At

The Strand of

COURSE

JAMES J. O'HARA, ONE OF THE LEADING ORGANISTS OF NEW ENGLAND, AT THE ORGAN

TODAY AND WEDNESDAY

CONRAD NAGEL, HOBART BOSWORTH, MAE BUSCH, and AILEEN PRINGLE, PATSY RUTH MILLER, CREIGHTON HALE

—IN—

"NAME THE MAN"

A drama carved right out of life itself brimming with heart throbs, thrills and love. Adapted from Hall Caine's great novel, "The Master of Man."

Afternoons, 25c; Children 10c; Evenings 25c upstairs; 35c downstairs.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SAT.

The funniest novelty yet—

"PLASTIGRAMS"

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

HARRY CAREY in "THE NIGHT HAWK"

THE SAILORS SNUG HARBOR

Famous Establishment at Staten Island, New York, Where Weary Mariners Come To Port.

All along the New England coast the Sailors Snug Harbor is a familiar name, for hundreds of our warriors have found their last port there, and at this very moment sailormen from Rockland and other Knox County towns are living there a life of comfort and ease. Therefore the following article by Richard Fay Warren, published in the Boston Transcript with proper illustrations will be relished by a great circle of readers of The Courier-Gazette:

On June 1, 1801, Captain Richard Randall, sailor of the Seven Seas, executed his last will and testament, drawn by Alexander Hamilton, bequeathing to Betsey Hart, his housekeeper, his gold sleeve buttons and an annuity of forty pounds; to one Gawn Irvin his shoe buckles and his knee buckles and twenty pounds, and his farm of twenty acres on Manhattan Island for the establishment and Maintenance of a Home for Aged, Deceitful and Worn-out Sailors, to be known as the Sailors Snug Harbor. If it had not been for the trustees of his will, Greenwich Village would now most assuredly have a salty as well as a spicy flavor, for the captain's twenty-acre farm would have been bounded by Fourth and Fifth avenues and Sixth and Tenth streets. The trustees, sensing that New York might quite possibly increase in size and that the farm would be walled in by brick buildings, bought a large tract of land on Staten Island on the banks of the Kill von Kull and in the year 1831-32 the first building was erected and in the following year fifty sailors were admitted. Today the "Harbor" covers about two hundred acres. There are more than thirty buildings including two churches, a theatre and eight main dormitories and mess halls; spacious grounds with gravel paths and benches, and 750 sailors, 75 per cent of whom are American citizens.

There is no question of their being old. Their average age is seventy-four years and the oldest member is ninety-six years. "There is no good talking to him, because he's senile," declares Governor George E. Black, with himself a seaman who shipped as cabin boy from New York when twelve years old. Governor Beckwith is in direct charge of the men and like all the governors who have preceded him, has held responsible positions in ships. He was born in Windsor, Nova Scotia, but came to Brooklyn when he was exactly a year old. His age may be fifty or it may be less. He spent twenty-nine years at sea; is a large man with a pink and white complexion, retentive and has a real twinkle in his eyes.

"You can go anywhere you like, talk to anyone you like," he said when asked if it would be permissible to roam at random. "We make no restrictions. You may find some men with complaints, but we don't mind that. You are free to publish their complaints. You want to see some of the old men? They're all old. Yes, there are a few men who sailed in clipper ships, but they're getting mighty scarce. And did you know that about 19 per cent of the men here were captains? Captains in those days didn't get as much as captains get now. Some of them had hard luck. Some never saved their money, but you'll find the men all here."

Hard Times Astern

Governor Beckwith waved his arm in a circle. Many of the old sailors, dressed in blue suits with brass buttons and wearing soft straw hats of a yellow color, were sitting on the benches in the park. Most of the men were sitting in groups. A few were by themselves. One or two were in wheel chairs. All of them, apparently, either had white hair or else no hair at all. Outside the governor's office, guides were waiting in the corridor of the main building to show visitors around.

It is all too easy to become sentimental about the Sailors Snug Harbor. Generalizations are easy and are dangerous. Undoubtedly there is an unwritten novel in every man, just as there is an unwritten novel, of a certain kind, in everybody. We know that they lead hard lives and we know that they are quite right in saying that "times have changed, my boy, since we went to sea. Them were the days they drove you. Sailors have a soft snap now-a-days. They don't have to load or unload cargoes—and the trips they take, why it's like taking trips in a bathtub." It is quite true that in "them days" sailors had more rights and what "is more, didn't expect any."

William S. McFee, has said that only pseudo-romanticists would wish to see the days of the windjammer return.

It is easy in strolling about the grounds of the "Harbor," to see men "gnarled and knotted," by rheumatism. It is convenient to refer to them as "old sailors," as an old sailor to whom "the sea has been unkind," who prefers to sit alone with his thoughts recalling lonesome nights on water and comrades dead these many years. Without for a moment belittling their courage, are they very different from men whose lives were dedicated in other dangerous if less romantic professions?

The glory of the sea is theirs. It is in many cases their only inheritance. We admire them and are proud of them. Yet would not the members of a Home for Aged, Deceitful and Worn-out Mine Workers, say, look and act very much the same and just what would their inheritance be?

The Guide Shows Himself

The sailors are far more interesting than the "Harbor" itself. In showing visitors the many buildings, the guides really "show" themselves. And the guides vary. Some of them enjoy talking about themselves and the visitor knows that they are hearing stories which may be true and which very well may not be true. It doesn't matter in the slightest.

"It's a warm day," said one of these guides to the writer. He was tall and as straight as a spar and his eyes were sea blue.

How many years have you been to sea?

"Fifty."

"Did you sail in square riggers?"

"In square riggers, I should say I did. I was always a deep sea water sailor and I sailed in deep water with the American ships as long as the American ships lasted. Then I sailed in foreign ships, English, German, some French."

"Of course I do. Didn't my folks settle in the country? You're a Republican, aren't you? Thought you looked like one. Me and my roomy, Jack Colbert are Democrats and I've been working for Al Smith. Writing campaign poems. Here, I've got one already but he wasn't nominated and now it's no good."

"How many years at sea? Started out in 1868 and kept at it steady until 1912. Then the war came a year or two after and away I went again. Didn't say a word to the people here, but just went away and shipped. See that scar on my arm. German submarine did that. I was on a tanker and she went aground and a German submarine came along and shelled us. After the war I came back. Sure I would like to go again, but if you want to hear some experiences wait until Jack comes in. He's had some. I've written them up and they're going to be published. Salem's my home and Jack came from Calais, Maine. He's a year older than I am. We were both truant boys. That's how we started to follow the sea. In those days truant boys were sent to training ships to fit them for the sea. I put in twenty-seven months on the school ship George M. Barnard, anchored in Boston Harbor, and Jack was on the old Massachusetts."

Frank Waters will talk. He will tell you all manner of stories of shipwrecks, of vessels being dismantled during lightning storms, of the Horns of vicious captains, of hard crews, of nights in Liverpool when he had money in his pocket and when he hadn't; of men whose fingers were frozen and of captains who lashed the men's hands and then cut the frozen fingers off. He is a character so unreal in real life. His face is right out of fiction. And he looks the part. That is what makes him so unreal in real life. His face is long and lean and lined; his arms are long and tattooed and his gait is rolling.

Jack came in, the exact opposite in appearance—fat and chunky with a good natured smile and merry eyes, looking for all the world like a little old tattooed Cupid. Frank Waters began telling about a night he shipped from Liverpool. "I was at Salt House Dock. You know Salt House Dock, Jack?"

"Do I know Salt House Dock?" said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

The discriminating hostess rely on

SUPERBA
TEA

Selected, blended and packed to insure exquisite fragrance

THERE ARE 99 SUPERBA PRODUCTS

ORANGE PEKOE OR FORMOSA
3 GRADES, 30-35-45 CENTS THE HALF POUND

yard arms and one day the royal had to be furlled. So I went to the captain and told him I'd furl her. 'Go ahead,' he said, and ahead I went and when I got through the captain told me that the royal was furlled the best she had been since we left port. I always furlled the royal after that."

"But them were tough days. We used to have some hard times. Those Liverpool buck-eyes, they were hard men. I tell you and good sailors, too, but we Yankees didn't let them put anything over on us. Yes, I've sailed on the clipper and may be they didn't cut the seas. Went right through the rollers, I'm telling you. Wet, my God, but wasn't them decks wet!"

"I wasn't in the fo'c'st'le long, though. No, I was second mate and, say, second mate's the easiest job on a ship. He does the dirty work. If there's a fight on ship he has to jump in and settle it."

"I've been dismantled twice. The first time, it was in 1874 and we were making Boston on the ship Sally Austin. No, it was in 1878, that was when it was, and it was the bark Sally White. No, we didn't have to cut them away, the masts just rolled right out of her. Around the Horn? Just once my boy. No, sir; that's once was enough for me. There's the Governor coming now."

The guide who showed us the grounds was quite different. He frankly did not care to review his life. He said that he was a "deep water seaman" and had gone to sea for fifty odd years. Then he began to describe the hospital, with its wards, the sanitarium, the sixty-five head of cattle.

The harbor has a post laureate, He is Frank Waters, aged seventy-four years. We knocked at his door and hearing no "come in," walked in and, sure enough, he was writing. His table faced the window and where the curtain should have been was a clothes line. Whenever he looked up he faced a flannel undershirt. There was no doubt about his being glad to see us.

"I'm a writer myself, amateurish you know," he said. "Been busy during the campaign. You're a Republican, aren't you? Thought you looked like one. Me and my roomy, Jack Colbert are Democrats and I've been working for Al Smith. Writing campaign poems. Here, I've got one already but he wasn't nominated and now it's no good."

"How many years at sea? Started out in 1868 and kept at it steady until 1912. Then the war came a year or two after and away I went again. Didn't say a word to the people here, but just went away and shipped. See that scar on my arm. German submarine did that. I was on a tanker and she went aground and a German submarine came along and shelled us. After the war I came back. Sure I would like to go again, but if you want to hear some experiences wait until Jack comes in. He's had some. I've written them up and they're going to be published. Salem's my home and Jack came from Calais, Maine. He's a year older than I am. We were both truant boys. That's how we started to follow the sea. In those days truant boys were sent to training ships to fit them for the sea. I put in twenty-seven months on the school ship George M. Barnard, anchored in Boston Harbor, and Jack was on the old Massachusetts."

Frank Waters will talk. He will tell you all manner of stories of shipwrecks, of vessels being dismantled during lightning storms, of the Horns of vicious captains, of hard crews, of nights in Liverpool when he had money in his pocket and when he hadn't; of men whose fingers were frozen and of captains who lashed the men's hands and then cut the frozen fingers off. He is a character so unreal in real life. His face is right out of fiction. And he looks the part. That is what makes him so unreal in real life. His face is long and lean and lined; his arms are long and tattooed and his gait is rolling.

Jack came in, the exact opposite in appearance—fat and chunky with a good natured smile and merry eyes, looking for all the world like a little old tattooed Cupid. Frank Waters began telling about a night he shipped from Liverpool. "I was at Salt House Dock. You know Salt House Dock, Jack?"

"Do I know Salt House Dock?" said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

"I know Salt House Dock," said Jack looking towards heaven or rather at the ceiling and one got the impression that he was not quite sure.

THE WARREN ALEWIVES

Are a Handsome Source of Revenue
To That Prosperous Town.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In your issue of July 31 I noticed an allusion to one of our esteemed citizens, Emerson Perkins, of "hanging onto his knows" on account of the Warren fish house.

As one of the officials of the town I would like to state through your columns, for the information of our citizens and taxpayers and the public, that I have had the fish house and its contents thoroughly examined by our local health officer and one of the State health officers, and they informed me that they found the conditions all right; that there was nothing in the fish house or on the premises that they would order cleaned up; and that positively there was no menace to the health of any person or the community in general.

The town officials very much regret that in operating the fish privilege we should have inconvenienced any citizen of the town. The fish are sold to the Nicholson Fish Co. of Bucksport and the company has sent here a crew of men, in charge of Mr. Russ, a man of fifty years' experience in the fish business. They are packing the fish in barrels and have already shipped three carloads. Mr. Russ informed me that he found the fish in good condition.

We are trying to build up the fish privilege. Last year we paid to the town treasurer $800 which was a net gain to the town. This year we are planning to pay a thousand dollar note with the fish money, and that will cancel the town debt.

If for any reason we should be unable to operate the fish privilege, through an injunction or otherwise, it would deprive our taxpayers of all income from that source.

S. V. Weaver.

Warren, Aug. 11.

TURN ME OVER

Since you've laid such a pretty egg, sweet birdie, please finish it with your little hatchet.

EAST SENNEBEC

Mrs. Herbert Stanley and Miss Julia May Stanley of South Carver are guests of Zuinglius Gurney and family for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cloughlin left yesterday for their home in Connecticut after a stay of one week with Mrs. Cassie Paul.

Fern Dodge has returned to Florida after a stay of nearly three months with her grandmother, Mrs. G. M. Robbins and other relatives in Camden, Hope and Union.

Mrs. Cassie Paul and son Raymond were in Bangor recently.

Robbie Robbins and family were in Belfast, Bangor, Augusta and Jefferson Sunday on a motor trip.

Miss Una Clark of Augusta was a weekend guest of Miss Myrtle Reeve.

Eloyd Rines of Oakland is visiting his uncle, J. A. Rines.

John Standish of Boston was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Nellie Reeve, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mank and son Henry of Bath and Mr. and Mrs. M. Mank were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Mank. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowers and son. They all motored to South Thomaston and enjoyed a shore dinner at Ira Snow's.

Four ladies camped at A. Miller's Wednesday night enroute from Bar Harbor to Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Black of Wollaston, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Black.

Robert C. Coffin and Miss Gladys Barter both of Waldoboro, were married Aug. 2 by Rev. Guy C. McQuaid.

Every issue of The Courier-Gazette is a salesman, visiting three times a week the homes of this vicinity and soliciting business for its advertisers.

SOUTH WALDOBORO

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Benner, Roy Benner, Gardiner Benner, and Percy Benner motored to Togus Sunday.

Mrs. Hattie Prior of Friendship and Mrs. Albert Genthner, were guests at Thomas Creamer's last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howarth of Camden, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Delano of Haverhill, Mass., were callers of Mrs. Nellie Wallace Sunday.

Miss Doris Burrows has been visiting Mrs. Herman Winchenbach of Rockland.

Arthur Jackson of Orr's Corner was a guest at C. P. Jackson's Sunday.

Emily Davis is visiting A. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Blum and maid and chauffeur Richard Baucha of New York arrived at their farm here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Mace motored here from Trenton, N. J., and are the guests of Mrs. Mace's mother, Mrs. Gilmore.

Mrs. Ella Spear has returned to her home in Rockland after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. George A. Wallace.

Mrs. Eben Baker has returned to her home in Rockland after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Winchenbach.

A large crowd went from here to Rockland Monday to see the Elks' parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Kaler and son of Rockland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Burns Sunday.

Dr. G. E. Schofield, Colby Wallace and John Wincape motored to Bath Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wincape and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benner motored to Christmas Cove Sunday, where they called on Miss Edith Wincape who has employment there.

A. L. Sproul made a business trip to Sidney Saturday.

The heaviest thunder shower of the season passed over here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Newbert and two children were callers at A. G. Pitman's Friday.

Mrs. Hazle Perry was in Rockland Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Newbert and Elizabeth Stanley and daughter Chrystal spent Thursday in Belfast.

Miss Lizzie Fuller recently returned home after a two weeks' visit with a cousin at Bayside.

Lucy and Alice Moody are making the schoolhouse shine, ready for the opening of the fall term.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pitman and children were in Camden Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. C. Stanley is lumbering for J. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Perry and family spent Friday evening in Belfast.

CONSTANTLY
IMPROVED
BUT NO YEARLY
MODELS

DODGE
BROTHERS
MOTOR CARS

DYER'S GARAGE

Rockland Dealer

Park Street

WALDOBORO

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Overlock in North Jay Sunday.

Harold Gonzales spent the week at Mrs. L. P. Bailey's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuhn were visiting friends in Hope.

Dr. Frank L. Maguire of Philadelphia was at Mrs. Orris Levenson's last week.

Joseph D. Wolf, Fred L. Burnes, and Mrs. P. E. Storer, Mrs. I. Howard York and Miss Grace York attended the meeting of Democratic County Committee Footpath Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Tolman is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. A. Jameson Rockland.

Mrs. Joseph David of North Harbor has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Solomon David.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Philbrook of Damariscotta were in town Friday.

Mrs. Ethel Overlock has been visiting relatives in Round Pond.

Mrs. Ida Cotton and Miss G. Cotton, who are at their summer home in Nobleboro, were at Mrs. M. H. Blaney's Sunday.

Mrs. Cora McLain has returned from Bremen and is staying at Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hardy's.

Mrs. Asa Busby and children, Fitchburg, Mass., are guests of parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ben.

Mrs. H. I. Eugley and Miss G. Eugley returned from Vinland Saturday.

Rev. Everett Washburn of Bangor, N. H., preacher at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Washburn, who was Miss L. Washburn, were warmly greeted by their many friends in town. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis and Miss Ruth Davis.

Friends of Miss Edna M. Young during the stay in town.

Mrs. Amelia Carter of Rockland has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Labe.

Mrs. Thomas Ashworth and Miss Margaret Ashworth were in Rockland Friday.

The long anticipated production, "Skin Deep" with Milton Sills in the role of hero-crook will be seen at the Star Theatre tonight. This is a highly dramatic part and one that shows Sills' remarkable talent to advantage.

This is the last First National picture on the summer program. The Famous Players program will begin Saturday night with "A Social Scandal."

MOODY MOUNTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cunningham and son Robert and W. A. Palmer of North Washington were Sunday guests of his brother, B. E. Cunningham.

Mrs. Grace Higgins and daughter Helen visited friends at Rockland the week.

Quite a number attended the Elk Parade and Circus at Rockland although it rained all came home very satisfied.

It is reported that the Moody Mountain postmaster has resigned and that the old Post Office will soon be a thing of the past.

The Fenwick Lumber Co. has again started up their mill with a full crew. The farmers claim that they have cut about two-thirds as much hay last year.

SWAN'S ISLAND

Mrs. Edw. Nelson and daughter Josephine of Portland are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. Conary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheever Ames of Revere, Mass., and sons Max and Bradford are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. Rowe.

Miss Imogene Conary who has been visiting at her home has returned to Portland where she is employed at the Thomas Smiley Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill of Bath are two daughters are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Bridges.

Mrs. Trot and son of Massachusetts are visiting here.

Mrs. Levi Moulton is visiting relatives at Rockland.

EVERYTHING MUSICAL

We Have For

PIANOS

Standard Makes

Ivers & Pond

Merrill

Francis Bacon

McPhail

POPULAR SHEET MUSIC 20c AND 25c

Accordions, $4 to $100

Auto Harps, $7 to $12

Brief Cases, $3 to $7

Clarinets, $35 to $85

Chinese Gongs, $4.50

Cornets, $15 to $100

Drum Traps, $30 to $100

Harmonicas, 15c to $2.00

Harmonica Holders, 50c

Mandolins, $4 to $25

Metronomes, $4.50 to $7

Music Cases, $1.50 to $2.75

Music Stands, $1 to $2.75

Saxophones, $85 to $200

Strings for all Instruments

Viols, Violin Bows

Violin Supplies

V. F. STUDLEY INC.

Telephone 713. ROCKLAND. 283 Main St.

NORTH NATIONAL BANK

Cordially invites the accounts of all people without a banking home.

We also extend to all, an invitation to use our

Drafts, Letters of Credit, American Bankers' Money Orders or anything else we have to accommodate you.